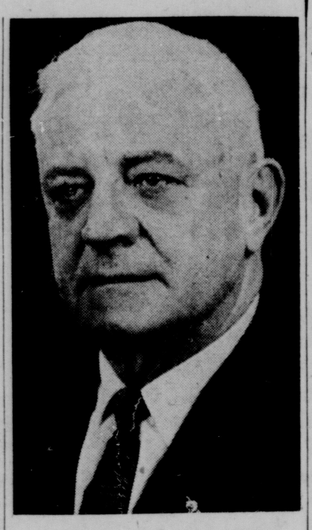
Wheatley Named To New Term As IBOP President



E. L. WHEATLEY
Returned To 2nd Full Term.

E. L. Wheatley, president, and the other 11 officers of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters have been re-elected to new two-year terms, a three-man canvassing committee reported late Tuesday afternoon when it completed tabulation of the results of the union's general election May 5.

Statistics showed Wheatley received 70.66 per cent of the total vote, against a 29.34 per cent poll for his opponent, James M. Duffy of East Liverpool, who formerly headed the international union for 25 years, the union announced.

All other officers were returned by substantial majorities, including Secretary Treasurer Charles F. Jordan, who received 74.75 per cent of the total vote against 25.25 per cent for his opponent, P. K. Calhoon of East Liverpool, the union announced.

Wheatley and the other officers will be installed for their new terms at the 65th international convention, which will open July 6 in Montreal. Wheatley will be beginning his second full term.

Duffy, a member of Local 31 at East Palestine, headed the union until he was defeated by Frank Hull of East Liverpool about five years ago. Wheatley served for many years as first vice president of the IBOP, in charge of its East Coast office in Trenton. He moved up to the presidency in 1956 when Hull relinquished the office in mid-term because of failing sight and hearing.

In a special election that followed, Wheatley was named to Hull's unexpired term. He was elected to his present term in May 1957, defeating Duffy.

Local unions in 13 states and Canada voted in the general election. As locals outside the immediate East Liverpool area certified their returns by mail, the final

Deadlock On DiSalle Tax Plan Broken In Senate Compromise

DiSalle Asks Changes To Avert Waste

Reorganization Of State Government Urged In Message

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, in a special message to the Legislature, today called for state government reorganization as a key move toward eliminating inefficiency and waste.

The proposal would permit the governor to institute departmental mergers and divisions and submit his reorganization plan simultaneously to both houses of the Legislature at a regular session. Either house would have veto power within a 60-day period. If neither house vetoed the plan, it would be effective 90 days after the Legislature adjourned.

In his 3500-word message today, the Democratic governor laid heavy stress on the fact his proposal is patterned after the system recommended for the federal government by former Republican President Herbert Hoover as head of a special commission on reorganization.

"Ohio needs reorganization," DiSalle asserted. "With government costs continually on the rise, it is absolutely essential that waste, duplication, extravagance and inefficiency be eliminated.

"It is also essential that responsibility for better administration be clear and be fixed.

"When we seek the right to accomplish these needed objectives, subject to the power of the Legislature to disapprove . . . and with this, further subject to the right of the people to express themselves in free elections, can we afford to permit the continuance of the waste of the taxpayers' dollars."

DiSalle asserted Ohio faces in many ways the same problems that faced the fedeal government before the reorganization studies of the Hoover Commission. There has been no full-scale reorganization of state government since 1921, he said, adding:

"New agencies have been created, new boards and commissions have sprung up, new functions have been assumed. The growth in the state budget has been almost unbelievable—in 1921 it was $67,336,495 and today it is 971 millions. The number of state employes has grown from 13,231 in 1921 to 42,819 today."

DiSalle said his proposal would permit a governor to submit plans which would result in lower spending, greater efficiency, better coordination, fewer agencies and elimination of total or partial overlapping of effort.

Capital Airline Involved In Both Tragedies

Turboprop Plane Torn Apart By Explosion

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Capital Viscount turboprop airliner blew apart during a nonstop flight from New York to Atlanta late Tuesday, scattering wreckage and the bodies of all 31 aboard over freshly plowed fields east of Baltimore.

Just 48 minutes earlier, another Capital airliner, a four-engine Constellation, plunged over a 200-foot embankment at the Charleston, W.Va., airport, 300 miles to the west, as it came in for a landing. It immediately burst into flames. Two bodies were removed from the charred wreckage and six persons were hospitalized.

There were 44 persons aboard the Constellation.

An official at the Civil Aeronautics Board said it was the first time in his memory that a single airline had had two fatal crashes in one day.

The weather may have played a part in both crashes.

Flight engineers and others said they thought the plane was caught in a severe updraft or downdraft which pulled off part of a wing. The fuel lines in the wing snapped spraying fuel into the burning engine. The quick combustion was a low order explosion which tore the plane to pieces.

Rain was still falling slightly at Charleston when the big Constellation came in for a landing at the airport, built by slicing off the top

Liner Skids Over 200-Foot Bank And Burns

The Capital Airlines Constellation plunged tail-first to the bottom of the embankment. The crash occurred at 3:26 p.m. as the plane landed at mountain-top Kanawha Airport on Flight 983 bound from Rochester, Buffalo and Pittsburgh for Atlanta.

Twenty-eight other passengers and crew members were taken to hospitals. All but six were released after treatment or examination.

Killed in the crash were William M. Riley of Rochester, N.Y., a passenger, and B. J. Morrison, 26, of Glasgow, Ky., a Capital trainee who was riding with the pilot and co-pilot. The two badly burned bodies were recovered from the smoldering hulk two hours after the crash.

Of the survivors, the most seriously hurt appeared to be the flight engineer, John Howanski, 39, of Fairfax, Va. He had severe burns on the arms and face.

Survivors praised the cool-headed work of two stewardesses in preventing panic and helping passengers get out of the wreck. The stewardesses, Nancy S. Marshall, 20, and Evelyn Marie Viera, 19, both of Alexandria, Va., were treated at a hospital for cuts and released.

Floor Votes On Gasoline, 3.2 Beer Set

Committee Proposes Passage Of 2-Cent Hike On Cigarettes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The weeks-long tax deadlock has broken in the Ohio Senate. The details of an acceptable sales tax compromise are being worked out.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's entire 360-million-dollar tax program appears to have been blasted loose by the compromise. Now it is rolling.

Evidence: Within a matter of hours after the compromise was proposed and tentatively agreed to Tuesday, the Senate Rules Committee scheduled Senate floor votes for today on House-approved bills to increase the Ohio gasoline tax by two cents a gallon and boost the barrel tax on 3.2 beer.

And, only a little later, a Senate committee recommended passage of a House-approved bill to increase the state cigarette tax two cents a pack.

The compromise on the sales tax bill was two-pronged:

Drop the proposal to lift the traditional exemption on farm and factory machinery "used directly" in agricultural and industrial production. Lifting of that exemption, it had been estimated, would have given the state about 36 million dollars a year in new revenue.

Jack up the state's corporation franchise tax to four-tenths of one per cent on capital investment. The tax is now one-tenth of one per cent. It yields 16 millions a year. DiSalle originally proposed to double the tax to two-tenths. The House passed such a bill and sent it to the Senate.

The tax compromise will redouble the corporation tax. The extra two-tenths will yield 32 million dollars a year to the state treasury.

Three Democrats on the Senate Taxation Committee have blocked the sales tax bill for weeks. One of them, Sen. J. Sherman Porter (D-Gallia), has objected to lifting the "used directly" sales tax exemption. He said he will go along with the compromise and furnish the needed sixth vote to spring the sales tax bill out of committee.

It is possible the sales tax bill, stuck in the Senate committee since early March, will be recommended out of committee today. But, guarding against last-minute changes of heart, Democratic leaders plan to call for a vote first on the quadrupled corporation franchise tax bill. Unless it moves, the sales tax bill will remain where it is.

Robbery Pair Bound Over To Grand Jury

Suspects In School Entry Plead Guilty In Wellsville Case

Two men nabbed while burglarizing McKinley School at Wellsville early Tuesday morning were bound over to the Grand Jury at a hearing yesterday afternoon before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Gilbert P. Beers, 31, of 207 Walnut St., East Liverpool, and Donald. L. Creamer, 18, of Indiana, Pa., both pleaded guilty to the formal charge of burglary of an uninhabited dwelling.

Creamer was placed under $1000 bond and Beers' bond was set at $1,500. Both are being held in Wellsville jail.

The two obtained about $4.50 in small change from the school. Police pointed out they face a possible 1-15-year prison term.

Police said Beers has a past record of burglary. The two were nabbed by Patrolmen Denton Kevan and Robert Wellington after a passerby noticed a light inside the school.

They had forced the front door to gain entrance. They also had tried a basement door, police said.

They used a screwdriver in forcing back the lock and unless it was closely inspected, a person couldn't tell the lock had been touched, police said.

Special Officer Tom Walker of East Liverpool questioned the two men yesterday afternoon about their activities in East Liverpool.

Earlier they confessed to Wellsville police of burglarizing the Midway Diner on the River Rd. and attempting to enter the adjacent Midway Oil Co.

East Liverpool police said the pair obtained about $60 in change and cigarettes by rifling a vending machine in a weekend burglary at the Midway Diner. The loss was not discovered until Monday afternoon when an attendant went to the diner to service the cigarette machine, officers said. A few pennies also were taken from the diner's cash register, police said.

Entrance was gained by forcing a door on the southeast side of the diner, officers said. The diner is operated by Mrs. Opal Moore of Pleasant Heights.

Local police indicated the men may not be given preliminary hearings here as they already have been bound over to the Grand Jury at Wellsville. However, county authorities may present the local charges direct to the Grand Jury if they wish, police said.

They also admitted burglarizing Wells High School at Newell. Hancock County authorities did not question them. They obtained between $4 to $5 in small change.

Unions Move To Revamp Or Kill Measure

Mine Union's Chief To Voice Opposition Against Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor unions, through breakfasts for congressmen and other forms of lobbying, are mounting a growing drive to revamp sharply or kill the Senate-passed labor regulation bill.

John L. Lewis, the veteran United Mine Workers Union president, was to register his opposition today before a House Labor subcommittee.

The 79-year old Lewis repeatedly has counseled against any new labor anti-corruption legislation. He says the problem is an internal one for unions to solve and, anyway, there are plenty of laws against embezzelement to curb union frauds if the laws are enforced.

Meanwhile the AFL-CIO, which supported the original Senate bill before amendments were added in the Senate, indicated a switch in sentiment. The AFL-CIO Executive Council is to meet here next week to go over the Senate version section by section.

George Meany, the AFL-CIO's president, hinted at federation opposition in a speech Tuesday to the Plasterers' Union. Meany spoke of the bill as passed by the Senate as "an active threat against the trade union movement."

James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union came out with a broadside against the Senate bill while union members were quietly breakfasting groups of congressmen in efforts to get the bill trimmed down.

"There's no secret about it," a Teamsters spokesman said. "Most congressmen have been contacted by our representatives. It's just normal lobbying procedure."

The Senate bill basically requires a detailed reporting of union finances and full member rights in internal union procedures, with the secretary of labor given broad enforcement powers. President Eisenhower has said the Senate bill isn't strong enough against certain union practices.

Steel Talks Recessed To Reassess Positions

NEW YORK (AP)—Wage contract negotiations for the steel industry were in recess today, to give management and union representatives time to reassess their positions.

Negotiators met for about three hours Tuesday but there was no announcement by either side.

Asked to comment on the session, David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said "We cannot negotiate in the press."

Troops Mass At Plants In Strike Unrest

National Guardsmen Appear With Fixed Bayonets At Mills

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — National Guard troops sent to this industrial city to prevent further violence at two struck cotton mills met their first test with an effective show of force Tuesday night.

The crowd of strikers jeered the troops and workers leaving the plant. Between 80 and 100 guardsmen were stationed at each mill.

City police said some rocks were thrown in an area not policed by the Guard. The officers arrested five persons, one of whom was charged with inciting to riot.

The force of about 300 men was ordered here by Gov. Luther Hodges as a result of violence that erupted Monday night at the end of the second shift.

Workers leaving the plants were pelted with rocks, and their cars were fired upon. Local officials said the situation was beyond their control and asked for troops.

Herter Bids For Debate

West 'Disgusted' With Red Efforts

GENEVA (AP)— The Western foreign ministers showed signs today of becoming fed up with the Soviet Union's insistence on adding more Red nations to the Geneva conference.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter planned to use his power as today's chairman to try to open the East-West debate on German issues for which the conference was called.

Aides said privately they were not sure he could pull off this maneuver unless the Soviet campaign suddenly eased up—something they did not expect.

A French spokesman said "we think this afternoon's session will be wasted" on further argument over Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's proposal to give Poland and Czechoslovakia seats at the conference round table.

Herter, France's Maurice Couve de Murville and Britain's Selwyn Lloyd all turned down the proposition Tuesday.

The Western ministers offered Gromyko a compromise, however: To let the two Communist nations and Italy and probably one or two other Western states enter the parley at some later time.

But Gromyko said through a spokesman the success of the conference was hinged to bringing in the Polish and Czech foreign ministers as full members at once. He demanded "a positive decision" and made clear he wanted it today.

Western informants reported that Herter and his allies have no intention of backing down on the issue. They offered a limited compromise: Poland, Czechoslovakia and one or more other nations can be invited to the conference later.

Ike Says Reds Push Propaganda Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Soviet Union seems to be pushing a propaganda drive in seeking admittance of Red satellite nations to the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

Eisenhower told a news conference he is very hopeful the Russians will abandon any such propaganda tactics so the conference can get down to fruitful negotiations.

U.S. Approval For Red Boss' Visit Expected

Top Officials May Combine His Trip To Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration appears reconciled to a possible visit by Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the United States this summer.

Top officials are talking seriously about whether to combine a Khrushchev trip with a summit conference in some American city.

This signals a change in attitude by authorities whose views would be important in deciding both issues. Until now, they have stressed the difficulties involved in a Khrushchev visit or choosing an American site for a summit conference.

If plans for a summertime summit meeting collapse, there is some prospect the bouncy Soviet leader will force the issue by asking to be allowed to open the Soviet Exposition in the New York Coliseum June 30.

President Eisenhower probably would say "yes" to such a request. The President would have no alternative, many officials believe, now that the Soviets have agreed to allow Vice President Richard M. Nixon to open an American National Exposition in Moscow July 25.

Khrushchev has made no official move yet to set up an American visit. But Soviet authorities in Moscow have made it known that "a senior official" undoubtedly would go to New York to open the Soviet exhibit.

Hall Asks Support Of School Levy

Pupils graduating in the next decade from any one of Hancock County's four high schools may possibly be quite a few steps ahead of their immediate predecessors in choosing careers.

They might possess better reading skills, speak and write better than today's graduates and could conceivably be farther along the right path to a successful future than ever before.

THE PUPIL receiving a diploma in 1969 may be stronger physically, more alert and diversified and possess a superior understanding of the opportunities which figure in everyday life, school officials said.

He might — if county voters provide the chance — do these mentioned things and maybe more.

Whether or not the "might" materializes into a "certainty" lies in the outcome of a special election Tuesday for enactment of an additional 50 per cent levy to finance an extensive, modern school improvement program.

Designed to raise $2 million over a 5-year period, the levy will produce funds to implement a list of recommendations for improvements made by a noted educator.

The recommendations corral a wide area of consideration but emphasize a more efficient counseling system to satisfy the needs of individual pupils and prepare them for future careers.

WITH AN EYE toward the future educational opportunities of Hancock's youth, the County Board of Education is asking approval of the additional levy to strengthen the present program and keep in line with the trend of modern educational advancements.

The contemplated program would offer a more challenging array of subject matter to pupils in the county's 150 elementary classes and 4 high schools at Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton.

It also would "channel" studies of brighter students and "keep them working on a level with their capacity and ability," Supt. Robert H. Hall pointed out.

Subjects to be stressed would include science, mathematics, English composition and social stu-

Floor Votes On Gasoline, 3.2 Beer Set

Committee Proposes Passage Of 2-Cent Hike On Cigarettes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The weeks-long tax deadlock has broken in the Ohio Senate. The details of an acceptable sales tax compromise are being worked out.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's entire 360-million-dollar tax program appears to have been blasted loose by the compromise. Now it is rolling.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor unions, through breakfasts for congressmen and other forms of lobbying, are mounting a growing drive to revamp sharply or kill the Senate-passed labor regulation bill.

John L. Lewis, the veteran United Mine Workers Union president, was to register his opposition today before a House Labor subcommittee.

The 79-year old Lewis repeatedly has counseled against any new labor anti-corruption legislation. He says the problem is an internal one for unions to solve and, anyway, there are plenty of laws against embezzelement to curb union frauds if the laws are enforced.

Meanwhile the AFL-CIO, which supported the original Senate bill before amendments were added in the Senate, indicated a switch in sentiment. The AFL-CIO Executive Council is to meet here next week to go over the Senate version section by section.

George Meany, the AFL-CIO's president, hinted at federation opposition in a speech Tuesday to the Plasterers' Union. Meany spoke of the bill as passed by the Senate as "an active threat against the trade union movement."

James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union came out with a broadside against the Senate bill while union members were quietly breakfasting groups of congressmen in efforts to get the bill trimmed down.

"There's no secret about it," a Teamsters spokesman said. "Most congressmen have been contacted by our representatives. It's just normal lobbying procedure."

The Senate bill basically requires a detailed reporting of union finances and full member rights in internal union procedures, with the secretary of labor given broad enforcement powers. President Eisenhower has said the Senate bill isn't strong enough against certain union practices.

Steel Talks Recessed To Reassess Positions

NEW YORK (AP)—Wage contract negotiations for the steel industry were in recess today, to give management and union representatives time to reassess their positions.

Negotiators met for about three hours Tuesday but there was no announcement by either side.

Asked to comment on the session, David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said "We cannot negotiate in the press."

Troops Mass At Plants In Strike Unrest

National Guardsmen Appear With Fixed Bayonets At Mills

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — National Guard troops sent to this industrial city to prevent further violence at two struck cotton mills met their first test with an effective show of force Tuesday night.

The crowd of strikers jeered the troops and workers leaving the plant. Between 80 and 100 guardsmen were stationed at each mill.

City police said some rocks were thrown in an area not policed by the Guard. The officers arrested five persons, one of whom was charged with inciting to riot.

The force of about 300 men was ordered here by Gov. Luther Hodges as a result of violence that erupted Monday night at the end of the second shift.

Workers leaving the plants were pelted with rocks, and their cars were fired upon. Local officials said the situation was beyond their control and asked for troops.

Herter Bids For Debate

West 'Disgusted' With Red Efforts

GENEVA (AP)— The Western foreign ministers showed signs today of becoming fed up with the Soviet Union's insistence on adding more Red nations to the Geneva conference.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter planned to use his power as today's chairman to try to open the East-West debate on German issues for which the conference was called.

Aides said privately they were not sure he could pull off this maneuver unless the Soviet campaign suddenly eased up—something they did not expect.

A French spokesman said "we think this afternoon's session will be wasted" on further argument over Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's proposal to give Poland and Czechoslovakia seats at the conference round table.

Herter, France's Maurice Couve de Murville and Britain's Selwyn Lloyd all turned down the proposition Tuesday.

The Western ministers offered Gromyko a compromise, however: To let the two Communist nations and Italy and probably one or two other Western states enter the parley at some later time.

But Gromyko said through a spokesman the success of the conference was hinged to bringing in the Polish and Czech foreign ministers as full members at once. He demanded "a positive decision" and made clear he wanted it today.

Western informants reported that Herter and his allies have no intention of backing down on the issue. They offered a limited compromise: Poland, Czechoslovakia and one or more other nations can be invited to the conference later.

Ike Says Reds Push Propaganda Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Soviet Union seems to be pushing a propaganda drive in seeking admittance of Red satellite nations to the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

Eisenhower told a news conference he is very hopeful the Russians will abandon any such propaganda tactics so the conference can get down to fruitful negotiations.

U.S. Approval For Red Boss' Visit Expected

Top Officials May Combine His Trip To Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration appears reconciled to a possible visit by Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the United States this summer.

This signals a change in attitude by authorities whose views would be important in deciding both issues. Until now, they have stressed the difficulties involved in a Khrushchev visit or choosing an American site for a summit conference.

If plans for a summertime summit meeting collapse, there is some prospect the bouncy Soviet leader will force the issue by asking to be allowed to open the Soviet Exposition in the New York Coliseum June 30.

President Eisenhower probably would say "yes" to such a request. The President would have no alternative, many officials believe, now that the Soviets have agreed to allow Vice President Richard M. Nixon to open an American National Exposition in Moscow July 25.

Khrushchev has made no official move yet to set up an American visit. But Soviet authorities in Moscow have made it known that "a senior official" undoubtedly would go to New York to open the Soviet exhibit.

Hall Asks Support Of School Levy

Pupils graduating in the next decade from any one of Hancock County's four high schools may possibly be quite a few steps ahead of their immediate predecessors in choosing careers.

They might possess better reading skills, speak and write better than today's graduates and could conceivably be farther along the right path to a successful future than ever before.

THE PUPIL receiving a diploma in 1969 may be stronger physically, more alert and diversified and possess a superior understanding of the opportunities which figure in everyday life, school officials said.

He might — if county voters provide the chance — do these mentioned things and maybe more.

Whether or not the "might" materializes into a "certainty" lies in the outcome of a special election Tuesday for enactment of an additional 50 per cent levy to finance an extensive, modern school improvement program.

Designed to raise $2 million over a 5-year period, the levy will produce funds to implement a list of recommendations for improvements made by a noted educator.

The recommendations corral a wide area of consideration but emphasize a more efficient counseling system to satisfy the needs of individual pupils and prepare them for future careers.

WITH AN EYE toward the future educational opportunities of Hancock's youth, the County Board of Education is asking approval of the additional levy to strengthen the present program and keep in line with the trend of modern educational advancements.

The contemplated program would offer a more challenging array of subject matter to pupils in the county's 150 elementary classes and 4 high schools at Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton.

It also would "channel" studies of brighter students and "keep them working on a level with their capacity and ability," Supt. Robert H. Hall pointed out.

Subjects to be stressed would include science, mathematics, English composition and social studies in the 12th grade—with pupils to be grouped according to ability.

As the county now employs a teaching staff of only 277 for 7,640 pupils, teachers do not have time to properly guide study habits of "bright" and "slow" students, Supt. Hall believes.

IN A LIST OF 21 recommendations for better schools published recently by Dr. James C. Conant in "The American High School Today," the need for a proper counseling system was clearly indicated as most important, the superintendent explained.

Dr. Conant recommends that there should be one full-time counselor or guidance officer for every 250-300 pupils in high schools.

Schools in Hancock do not have any, Supt. Hall said.

"Under the present setup, all we can do is present 12 years of schooling to pupils—we are not able to challenge aptitude or the student's interests," the superintendent said.

"However, if the levy is approved," he said, "the contemplated counseling program will be adopted and pupils will be counseled all through school," he continued.

"With an efficient testing program, the student's ability could be determined. Observations by his teacher will be supplemented with other reports and will provide an accurate analysis of the pupil's ability and help determine his study program, Supt. Hall said.

"WE DO NOT have the manpower to do this now," the superintendent pointed out.

Besides adoption of a proper counseling system, the funds from the proposed levy would also be used for furnishing more equipment, increasing the number of teachers in the system and lowering the number of pupils per classroom.

The average class size in the county is 32.6 pupils per room, as compared to the national average of 32. Seventy-five rooms in Hancock County schools have 32 or more pupils.

"The recommended program is very challenging," Supt. Hall commented. "It throws the responsibility for producing more qualified students on the county educators — and we cannot shirk this responsibility," he said.

While the levy is proposed for initiating teacher - pupil educational programs quickly, funds also could be used for adult education courses—"if the interest and need ever develops"—officials said.

LEVY FUNDS could also provide more and safer school buses, and pay for increased school-sponsored extra-curricular activities for the benefit of all students.

Although a 50 per cent levy for schools is already in effect, an amendment to the state constitution — approved by voters—allows for another 60 per cent levy for a 5-year term.

For the fiscal year July 1, 1959, and July 1, 1960: Class I--11.475 cents; Class II—22.95 cents; Class III—45.9 cents; Class IV 45.9 cents; and for the fiscal years July 1, 1961 to July 1, 1962 and July 1, 1963: Class I—22.95 cents; Class II—45.9 cents; Class III—91.8 cents, and Class IV—91.8 cents.

PROPERTY OWNERS with a $3,000 assessed valuation on homes will pay approximately $6.90 more than they now pay with the present 50 per cent levy and school bond issue on the tax duplicate.

Property valuation in all classes in the county amounts to over $115 million. Average salary for county teachers in 1957-58 was $4,524, compared to the national average of $4,650.

Cost per pupil in the county last year was $264. The average cost per pupil in the U. S. for 1957-58 was $320, according to school officials.

Taxes

understanding which broke the tax logjam is that a proposal to collect the sales tax on beer will be dropped. An earlier compromise attempt already had dropped a proposed sales tax on cigarettes.

Essentially, the sales tax revision bill under the compromise would restore the penny sales tax on purchases between 16 and 41 cents, apply the tax to bottle liquor, wine and ice purchases and apply it to hotel and motel room rentals.

But, most important from a political standpoint, it will eliminate the traditional sales tax stamps—the receipts which have been in use for 25 years. Abolished along with the stamps would be the stamp redemption system under which charitable groups have been redeeming the stamps at 3 per cent of their face value to the tune of about five million dollars a year. The stamp system—including redemptions—costs the state about 12 millions a year.

IBOP Officers Are Returned

tabulation could not be made until yesterday.

The union held its primary March 3, naming two men to run for each office in the general election. A field of 124 originally was nominated for the primary, but declinations cut the field to 64. The 24 nominees who emerged successfully from the primaries ran in the general election.

Other officials re-elected, in addition to Wheatley and Jordan, are:

Walter E. Clawges of Trenton, N. J., first vice president, over John B. Feltes of Torrance, Calif.; George Pace of Huntington Park, Calif., second vice president, over Larry Finlay of East Liverpool; James T, Slaven of Cannons Mills, third vice president, over E. C. Armstrong of East Liverpool; George Barbaree of Camden, N. J., fourth vice president, over Walter L. Szelc of Metuchen, N. J.

Arthur Devlin of Trenton, fifth vice president, over Joseph Guadagno, also of Trenton; C. Frank Dales of East Liverpool, sixth vice president, over John Andrason, also of East Liverpool; Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls, seventh vice president, over Frank Brown of East Liverpool; Clyde S. Jones of Sebring, eighth vice president, over Brooks Ash of East Liverpool; George Smith of Trenton, ninth vice president, over Harold Crowley of Metuchen, and William Rail of Richmond, Calif., tenth vice president, over Lewis Weigand of Pasadena, Calif.

The union also elected two delgates to the AFL-CIO convention. They are James Birch Jr. of Trenton, representing the area east of the Allegheny Mountains, and Walter Boneham of Tiffin, representing the area west of the Alleghenies. They defeated Harold Haines, also of Trenton, and George McDermott of Richmond, Calif.

Union officials said Wheatley scored a "smashing victory," carrying 21 of the 28 local unions in the East Liverpool district.

The election results were announced about 4:30 p. m. yesterday by a canvassing committee comprised of Ralph Glaab of Local 33 at Beaver Falls, chairman, Harold Hackett of Local 26 at Kokomo, Ind., and Walter Murray of Local 226 at Colton, Calif.

It was the most closely-watched IBOP election in years, as the workers went to the polls during a general strike against 11 dinnerware plants that idled about 5,700.

"Because of the strike, Wheatley had all the odds against him, as politics were mixed up with our negotiations with the USPA," Harry L. Gill, manager of the union newspaper, commented.

"The foundations of the Brotherhood rested upon settlement of this strike," he added. "An unsatisfactory settlement would have resulted in it becoming an organization in name only. May 7 (the day the three-week strike was settled) brought forth a new era in the union under constructive leadership."

Statistics show that 80 per cent of the trade voted in the East Liverpool area, with 72 per cent of the ballots being marked for Wheatley, the union announced. Of the generalware locals in the East Liverpool area, only two were carried by Duffy — and by small margins, the IBOP added. The others Duffy carried are not classed as "generalware" locals.

Union officers said the opposition force circulated pre - election letters to locals across the nation claiming that it expected to roll up 85 to 95 per cent of the vote in the East Liverpool area.

Director Set In Reappraisal Of Real Estate

LISBON — The start of a reappraisal of Columbiana County residential and rural real estate in mid-July was predicted today by Kenneth Bell, county auditor, who announced the appointment of Aden Kauffman of Columbiana as supervisor.

Bell said tentative plans for the reappraisal — the first since 1952 —call for hiring and training of three men to measure and rate farm property and three others for listing and evaluating residential real estate.

Bell said it may be necessary to hire several more men after the first groups have been trained. He said plans include renting of office space on S. Market St., adjacent to the County Extension Office, where clerical work will be handled in the reappraisal.

Three women will be employed for the office work, with one designated as office manager to supervise the work.

Bell said he hopes this plan will save the county at least $25,000 over the estimated cost of $135,000 if the re-evaluation were performed by an appraisal firm.

The reappraisal of industrial property was awarded by I. J. Vorndran while auditor before Bell took office. The cost was $38,500.

The cost of the 1952 re-appraisal of industrial, residential and rural property was $114,000.

Kauffman, owner of the Kauffman Realty of Columbiana, is a graduate of Youngstown University with a degree in accounting and is a licensed real estate broker and treasurer of the village of Columbiana.

He is married and the father of four.

Bell said the reppraisal plan was discussed at a meeting of Fred Becker of Columbus, state commissioner of county affairs, with Kauffman and himself last week. Becker gave tentative approval of the plans, which have now been forwarded to the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals at Columbus.

Bell said it is hoped the field work will begin by July 16.

Motorist Acquitted; Another Forfeits Bond

LISBON — A motorist was found not guilty at a hearing Tuesday evening in Mayor John Todd's court and another forfeited bonds totaling $30 when he failed to appear.

Louis Barronzzi, 34, of Sunset Dr., was acquitted of a charge of parking on a highway after being involved in an accident on Route 45 north of Lisbon.

While the levy is proposed for initiating teacher - pupil educational programs quickly, funds also could be used for adult education courses—"if the interest and need ever develops"—officials said.

LEVY FUNDS could also provide more and safer school buses, and pay for increased school-sponsored extra-curricular activities for the benefit of all students.

Although a 50 per cent levy for schools is already in effect, an amendment to the state constitution — approved by voters—allows for another 60 per cent levy for a 5-year term.

For the fiscal year July 1, 1959, and July 1, 1960: Class I--11.475 cents; Class II—22.95 cents; Class III—45.9 cents; Class IV 45.9 cents; and for the fiscal years July 1, 1961 to July 1, 1962 and July 1, 1963: Class I—22.95 cents; Class II—45.9 cents; Class III—91.8 cents, and Class IV—91.8 cents.

PROPERTY OWNERS with a $3,000 assessed valuation on homes will pay approximately $6.90 more than they now pay with the present 50 per cent levy and school bond issue on the tax duplicate.

Property valuation in all classes in the county amounts to over $115 million. Average salary for county teachers in 1957-58 was $4,524, compared to the national average of $4,650.

Cost per pupil in the county last year was $264. The average cost per pupil in the U. S. for 1957-58 was $320, according to school officials.

understanding which broke the tax logjam is that a proposal to collect the sales tax on beer will be dropped. An earlier compromise attempt already had dropped a proposed sales tax on cigarettes.

Essentially, the sales tax revision bill under the compromise would restore the penny sales tax on purchases between 16 and 41 cents, apply the tax to bottle liquor, wine and ice purchases and apply it to hotel and motel room rentals.

But, most important from a political standpoint, it will eliminate the traditional sales tax stamps—the receipts which have been in use for 25 years. Abolished along with the stamps would be the stamp redemption system under which charitable groups have been redeeming the stamps at 3 per cent of their face value to the tune of about five million dollars a year. The stamp system—including redemptions—costs the state about 12 millions a year.

IBOP Officers Are Returned

tabulation could not be made until yesterday.

The union held its primary March 3, naming two men to run for each office in the general election. A field of 124 originally was nominated for the primary, but declinations cut the field to 64. The 24 nominees who emerged successfully from the primaries ran in the general election.

Other officials re-elected, in addition to Wheatley and Jordan, are:

Walter E. Clawges of Trenton, N. J., first vice president, over John B. Feltes of Torrance, Calif.; George Pace of Huntington Park, Calif., second vice president, over Larry Finlay of East Liverpool; James T, Slaven of Cannons Mills, third vice president, over E. C. Armstrong of East Liverpool; George Barbaree of Camden, N. J., fourth vice president, over Walter L. Szelc of Metuchen, N. J.

Arthur Devlin of Trenton, fifth vice president, over Joseph Guadagno, also of Trenton; C. Frank Dales of East Liverpool, sixth vice president, over John Andrason, also of East Liverpool; Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls, seventh vice president, over Frank Brown of East Liverpool; Clyde S. Jones of Sebring, eighth vice president, over Brooks Ash of East Liverpool; George Smith of Trenton, ninth vice president, over Harold Crowley of Metuchen, and William Rail of Richmond, Calif., tenth vice president, over Lewis Weigand of Pasadena, Calif.

The union also elected two delgates to the AFL-CIO convention. They are James Birch Jr. of Trenton, representing the area east of the Allegheny Mountains, and Walter Boneham of Tiffin, representing the area west of the Alleghenies. They defeated Harold Haines, also of Trenton, and George McDermott of Richmond, Calif.

Union officials said Wheatley scored a "smashing victory," carrying 21 of the 28 local unions in the East Liverpool district.

The election results were announced about 4:30 p. m. yesterday by a canvassing committee comprised of Ralph Glaab of Local 33 at Beaver Falls, chairman, Harold Hackett of Local 26 at Kokomo, Ind., and Walter Murray of Local 226 at Colton, Calif.

It was the most closely-watched IBOP election in years, as the workers went to the polls during a general strike against 11 dinnerware plants that idled about 5,700.

"Because of the strike, Wheatley had all the odds against him, as politics were mixed up with our negotiations with the USPA," Harry L. Gill, manager of the union newspaper, commented.

"The foundations of the Brotherhood rested upon settlement of this strike," he added. "An unsatisfactory settlement would have resulted in it becoming an organization in name only. May 7 (the day the three-week strike was settled) brought forth a new era in the union under constructive leadership."

Statistics show that 80 per cent of the trade voted in the East Liverpool area, with 72 per cent of the ballots being marked for Wheatley, the union announced. Of the generalware locals in the East Liverpool area, only two were carried by Duffy — and by small margins, the IBOP added. The others Duffy carried are not classed as "generalware" locals.

Union officers said the opposition force circulated pre - election letters to locals across the nation claiming that it expected to roll up 85 to 95 per cent of the vote in the East Liverpool area.

Director Set In Reappraisal Of Real Estate

LISBON — The start of a reappraisal of Columbiana County residential and rural real estate in mid-July was predicted today by Kenneth Bell, county auditor, who announced the appointment of Aden Kauffman of Columbiana as supervisor.

Bell said tentative plans for the reappraisal — the first since 1952 —call for hiring and training of three men to measure and rate farm property and three others for listing and evaluating residential real estate.

Bell said it may be necessary to hire several more men after the first groups have been trained. He said plans include renting of office space on S. Market St., adjacent to the County Extension Office, where clerical work will be handled in the reappraisal.

Three women will be employed for the office work, with one designated as office manager to supervise the work.

Bell said he hopes this plan will save the county at least $25,000 over the estimated cost of $135,000 if the re-evaluation were performed by an appraisal firm.

The reappraisal of industrial property was awarded by I. J. Vorndran while auditor before Bell took office. The cost was $38,500.

The cost of the 1952 re-appraisal of industrial, residential and rural property was $114,000.

Kauffman, owner of the Kauffman Realty of Columbiana, is a graduate of Youngstown University with a degree in accounting and is a licensed real estate broker and treasurer of the village of Columbiana.

He is married and the father of four.

Bell said the reppraisal plan was discussed at a meeting of Fred Becker of Columbus, state commissioner of county affairs, with Kauffman and himself last week. Becker gave tentative approval of the plans, which have now been forwarded to the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals at Columbus.

Bell said it is hoped the field work will begin by July 16.

LISBON — A motorist was found not guilty at a hearing Tuesday evening in Mayor John Todd's court and another forfeited bonds totaling $30 when he failed to appear.

Louis Barronzzi, 34, of Sunset Dr., was acquitted of a charge of parking on a highway after being involved in an accident on Route 45 north of Lisbon.

Robert D. Moore, 43, of Akron forfeited $20 for lack of an operator's license and $10 for driving left of center line. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Will One Revolt Lead To Another?

As recently as 1946, state and local government spent only three billion dollars. That was a reflection, of course, of a federal policy of starving local and state government during wartime.

It was assumed that state and local needs could be deferred until the war was over, then met on a catch-up basis. This year, the comparable total is 49 billion dollars.

States and cities are still trying to catch up — building highway systems that had deteriorated, replacing public buildings, rehabilitating public faciltes, catching up to public demand for water supplies and sewage systems.

This is not pointed out, unfortunately, by U.S. News & World Report in an article designed to attract wide attention by suggesting that local taxpayers are entering a stage of revolt. The magazine presents all the evidence that enormous sums are being spent but does not explain that the expenditures were deferred, first by the depression of the '30s, then by the war of the '40s.

It is entirely likely, nevertheless, that the tax burden imposed by the catch-up spending will start a revolt. All states are in tax trouble; all cities are in trouble too.

People are continuing to demand services and facilities without being willing to pay for them. They are striking out in a mood of revolt against the things closest to hand while continuing to send amounts of money to Washington for distribution throughout the world.

It is an odd circumstances that rumblings of tax revolt always are local and state in origin; that there never is any rumbling against the federal government. The supposedly outlandish total of 49 billion dollars for local and state government is about the same as the item for national defense in the federal budget — the one that is supposedly untouchable.

There is one formula for deciding quickly where to start a tax revolt, if that is going to be the popular thing to do. Make a list of the cost of operating schools and the several local layers of government that provide day-by-day services, like street maintenance, police protection and the like. Add to it the cost of operating state services, like highway maintenance, public welfare institutions, poor relief and so on.

If the total is greater than the total of your federal income tax, plus federal excise taxes, local and state government are costing too much. In most cases, their combined cost is peanuts compared with the cost of federal government.

Water, Water, Somewhere . . .

The Ohio Senate's Agriculture and Conservation Committee has stuck to its guns in differing with Gov. DiSalle over how the state's water policy should be administered.

The governor has let it be known he wants the proposed new State Water Commission to be an agency of the new Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The Senate committee, in recommending a bill which would establish a water commission, has backed up Sen. Danny D. Johnson (D-New Philadelphia) in insisting that the the new commission should be on its own in the Department of Natural Resources, with that department's Division of Water as its administrative arm.

There is no disagreement on the need for a commission to oversee the use and conservation of Ohio's precious water supply and to tackle flood control. The governor and Sen. Johnson agree on that. The disagreement comes only in where and under whom the water commission should function.

The weight of the arguments seems to be on the side of Sen. Johnson. He is backed up by such recognized experts as C. V. Youngquist, who has been Ohio's respected water chief for a quarter of a century; Bryce Browning of New Philadelphia, who masterminded the highly successful operation of the Muskingum Conservancy District; John H. Byrne of the Lake Erie Watershed Foundation, and Sen. Johnson himself, who for years has made a close study of water.

The Johnson bill provides for the triple needs of the citizens of Ohio in water management: (1) Careful conservation so that what we have will not be wasted for the future, (2) proper use and development of future supply and (3) control of floods.

The means for accomplishing all three have been developed over the years by the U.S. Corps of Engineers and Mr. Youngquist's agency. What Ohio needs is a way to use the means.

Israel Outlived The Question Mark

As celebrations of Israel's 11th anniversary go forward here, a curious situation has developed in Israel. The year-long celebration of the new state's 10th anniversary has turned the 11th into an anti-climax. Everything that could be done has been done.

So intensively was the celebrative mood cultivated during the full year set aside for exuberance over the first 10 years of survival that nothing was left in reserve. The 11th anniversary will be of one day's duration, as will all future "independence days."

Those first 10 years were the hardest, because over them stood the question mark of skepticism. Could Israel survive?

Once that had been answered in the affirmative, all future questions could be dealt with in the normal course of events. There will be tough ones; there are some tough ones seeking answers now. But they will not be insurmountable.

Israel has outlived even the Arabian determination to destroy it. It has been in existence long enough to make objective appraisals of its own rate of progress. It has found its proper role as the link of liaison between the new nations of Asia and Africa and the established nations with which it maintains strong international relationships. Its people have developed confidence. Secure in the knowledge that their security is more than their own affair, they are developing national stability.

What is said to be true about conditions in Israel seems to be true generally. There isn't much worth saying about Israel's survival on the occasion of its 11th anniversary that hasn't been said.

Let's Not Forget The Teachers

The school term is nearing its close and the seniors and other graduates are about to have their day in the sun.

The general theme of commencement exercises will be focused upon the young people—their past successes and their future hopes.

Graduation, however, also should be a time for reflection upon the role of teachers, administrative officers and boards of education in the school program.

Teachers, naturally, are the direct link in the transmission of knowledge, culture and experience to the pupil, and — along with community attitudes — constitute the main factors in the quality of education. The policies of school officials and boards also are vital to curriculum, teacher standards, school operations and the general level of education.

Commencement belongs to the seniors, but the success of the processes which brought graduation to these young men and women is contingent upon the teachers and school authorities who guided them, whether in the classroom or in related fields.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Postmaster General Summerfield wants the four-cent stamp raised to a nickel. He can't turn out the flood of square, oblong, rectangular and miscellaneously shaped stamps in current colors and sizes without the increase.

The situation is so bad he may have to stick to the same stamp for two successive days. This would make unnecessary the stamp window query, "Do you wish your letter to go by pink, orange, russet, baby-blue, vermillion, canary yellow or peacock purple today?"

There are so many four-cent stamps in so many sizes, shapes and colors that for first time in post office history a customer about to mail a letter has to shop around, with a color chart and a sense of harmony as a guide.

It's so confusing that thousands of women are putting their postage stamps in a trading-stamp book and pasting trading stamps on epistles to Aunt Matilda. (Our missus took some Summerfield four centers downtown and tried to turn them in for coffee percolator.)

MR. SUMMERFIELD is an auto dealer by profession and likes postage stamps with cheesecake decorative motifs, carrying the suggestion of frequent changes in design and model. If Congress votes for the nickel stamp, we suggest that the postmaster general turn out the following:

1. Public Fortitude Stamp, struck off in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Q. Citizen who have shown outstanding patience and valor in the face of unnecessary commemorative stamps.

2. The Quincy D. Pumpernickel Five Center in honor of a post-office window attendant who showed rare devotion to tradition by saying to a customer, "I may lose face for this but I can let you have a postage stamp that looks like postage stamps used to look."

3. The U.S. Mental Alertness Stamp commemorating a period in history when anybody could tell a postage stamp from a Red Cross stamp, a Christmas seal, a cigar band or a record of the last time you had your oil changed.

THE GRAVEST DANGER faced by Harry Truman is that he will believe he is as flawless as described at his birthday banquet. "He's 75," said one banquet guest.

"One more eulogy and he will go to 90 and maybe 100," was a reply. "They're evidently merging him with George Washington, Incorporated and Abe Lincoln Unlimited."

Nevertheless Mr. Truman, entering his 76th year, proves that boys will be boys. His pulse is good, his blood pressure satisfactory to all but his enemies and he has the fastest breaking beanball in history. He has the pioneer constitution and could replace Ward Bond in "Wagon Train," towing two wagons at a time and BY FOOT.

NATIONAL TAVERN WEEK has just been celebrated, with "Visit your tavern" its theme. It shows how American is broadening. We can remember when "Don't drop in at the tavern" was dominant. . . . . "By pass the Tavern Week" would have been more likely.

Small World Isn't It?

Beware Of The Smiling Russian Bear

By Victor Riesel

A section of the Soviet's mysterious KGB, the security police and counterintelligence agency, has been ordered to smear Christian Herter and the rest of the U.S. delegation to the Geneva Foreign Ministers, conference.

Victor Riesel

This section also is under orders from a special Soviet propaganda ministry to stir workers' action against U.S. officials and embassies around the world as the Big Four meet to discuss which war-torn road to take to world brotherhood and peace.

This could well mean rock throwing and tomato and rotten egg fusillades against our people and buildings just as Vice President Nixon was stoned and spat at in South America.

The KGB's special section assigned to the demonstrations against our secretary of state in Geneva is known as the World Federation of Trade Unions.

Its operational chief is a Frenchman, Louis Saillant, the WFTU's general secretary. He's a dedicated man — dedicated to using the Soviet global labor apparatus to capture unions outside the Iron and Bamboo Curtains and turn them against our military and economic operations everywhere.

SO VITAL a world "apparatnik" is M. Saillant that the Soviet secret police's special inner security guard always keeps him under surveliance.

They watch him lest he defect or get drunk and talk too much, inadvertently betraying his permanent mission of sabotaging the West.

Furthermore, all sessions of the WFTU high council are carefully guarded by the KGB.

Until recently, at least, the Russian secret police had an agent with Saillant observing him so closely that he couldn't telephone or write a letter without their knowing it a moment later. This was accomplished by planting one of their agents on him as his confidential secretary.

She was Lisa Kotomkina. Our Central Intelligence Agency learned that she reported directly to one Peter Deriabin, a highly placed KGB official. He has since defected to the West.

THUS THE KGB was able to check minute by minute whether Saillant was obeying orders of the central Moscow agency which, in turn, relayed them from the trade union specialist who sits on the Central Committee of the Communist party USSR, itself.

Saillant's latest maneuver was uncovered by our people when he publicly invited Walter Reuther to come over from West Berlin to a special WFTU meeting in Goerlitz, East Germany, on May 7-10.

In the usual standard operating practice, the Goerlitz meeting was called under a swiftly created front known as "The European Conference of Trade Unions and Workers."

Saillant invited Reuther knowing, of course, that the U.S. Auto Union chief already had flown back to the U.S. But the point would be made that Reuther had ignored conferring with European workers on "the road to peace" and the silencing of thermonuclear explosions.

A LITTLE PROBING by some of our intelligence people revealed that the Goerlitz conference had been planned by Saillant at a WFTU council session in Warsaw last month. At that time they drew up the Goerlitz agenda.

This is what it included:

"During the Goerlitz conference, a special delegation will be appointed to present to the Geneva Foreign Ministers' conference a memorandum on the question of peacefully solving the German question, disarmament . . . The delegation will also take resolutions passed by the workers of industrial enterprises to Geneva."

It is planned that about May 22 rallies will be run across Europe —their target being the Western delegations at the Geneva conference, which by that time will be 11 days bogged down. They'll smear the West as warmongers.

'Strictly Kid Stuff'

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Soviets—with help from the West, which let itself get tangled in childlike tabletalk — are turning the foreign ministers meeting into the kind of spectacle predicted by Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The ministers, he said, would get bogged in details. He wanted first a summit meeting of the "heavyweights." After they had reached agreements, he said, the ministers could get together to stew over the details.

Khrushchev finally consented to a Big Four foreign ministers conference — United States, Soviet Union, Britain, France — because the West insisted. The meeting was to open Monday. So what happened?

Before the ministers could even hold their first session they got snarled in an argument — over the kind of table to use — which for all practical and realistic purposes was strictly kid stuff.

It hardly added, in the eyes of the world, to the dignity and seriousness of the meeting.

The West, allied with West Germany, refuses to recognize the legitimacy of the East German Communist government, which is a Soviet satellite. But the U.S.S.R. wants exactly this kind of Western recognition for the East Germans.

While all this was being hashed over, the Soviets' Andrei Gromyko got the conference further confused. He demanded both West and East Germany be allowed to take part in the Big Four conference as full participants.

This is exactly what the West didn't want — for East Germany, that is — for fear that Western permission for East Germany to sit in as a full participant might be interpreted as Western recognition for East Germany.

To avoid such an interpretation, the West had been willing for the two Germanys to sit in the conference room but with the understanding they would be merely consultants who couldn't speak unless asked a question.

A compromise was worked out. The two Germanys couldn't be full participants, but instead of having to wait to speak until spoken to, both could ask permission to be heard on any subject.

So the first brief meeting of the Big Four was held and finished. Then Gromyko messed things up for the second meeting. This time he demanded that the Soviet satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia be allowed to take part as full participants.

The West objected. So the second meeting, Tuesday, broke up. It, too, was brief.

None of Gromyko's demands — that the two Germanys, plus Poland and Czechoslovakia take full part in the Big Four conference — should have caused any surprise.

Last March, when the Soviet Union agreed to a Big Four meeting, it demanded the full participation for the two Germanys and Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The reason Gromyko was able to snarl up the meeting now with this demand for those countries was that the Big Four foreign ministers hadn't worked out details before they met. They are tangled in the details now.

But the way Gromyko handled all this can be interpreted as a form of Soviet contempt for the whole idea of a foreign ministers meeting.

He could have made all his demands at one time on the first day. Instead, he stretched them out, delaying by that much any effort by the Big Four to get down to the business which brought them to Geneva, the discussion of Germany.

Red Obstructionism

Soviet To Quibble Lengthily At Geneva

GENEVA

If the people of East Germany wished to send representatives to the big conference in Geneva to settle the fate of Berlin and if some way were devised to make sure that they were chosen through the processes of a free government, there wouldn't be the slightest difficulty here about accepting such envoys. But the realistic truth is that the East German people have nothing to say about it and that most of the so-called "advisers" from East Germany are actually Soviet citizens or handpicked by the Moscow government.

David Lawrence

This really ought to be an overriding issue. Instead, it has been dealt with as a "procedural" question. Yet it presents an opportunity to tell the whole world about the fundamental clause of the present conflict which every now and then emerges as a threat to peace.

Representative government that rests on the consent of the governed is a tradition which has motivated peoples everywhere.

So, when a dictatorship not only enslaves its own citizens but extends its tyrannical hand to keep other nations in captivity, it is surprising that there is any inclination to "negotiate" with such an autocratic government as the Soviet regime is today.

IT WAS no insignificant question to the Moscow strategists. They wanted to show the other "captive" states in eastern Europe that the Moscow government is not only accepted as an equal at Geneva but is acting as the champion of the interests of East Germany and neighboring states now under the control of the Soviets.

The Western foreign ministers had thought that the exchange of notes a few weeks ago with the Moscow government had cleared up the question but, with their customary insincerity, the Soviets declared that the note they sent didn't mean this at all. That's really why this conference is going to be a long one. It's to be just one quibble after another.

Also, Foreign Minister Gromyko, who was taught by Molotov the art of saying "no" to everything and introducing a lot of extraneous topics to confuse the issue, has been instructed to make the going as hard as possible. For presumably that's the Soviet way of proving that a "summit" conference is necessary and that only one man—Nikita Khrushchev — is capable of negotiating for 200 million people and of determining the fate of tens of millions held captive in the smaller countries that border on the Soviet Union.

MOLOTOV is the man who helped Stalin doublecross the Allies. While "negotiating" with Britain, he secretly made the deal which gave Hitler his chance to start World War II.

Gromyko sat for years under Molotov and knows exactly how to mess up any negotiation that the West undertakes. He speaks English and has a smooth manner but everyone knows that he has been instructed to agree to as little as possible here so as to make necessary the "summit" conference.

Already there is speculation as to what "crumb" is to be thrown by Moscow to the Western foreign ministers.

Actually, it may take the form of a declaration by the Soviets agreeing to what is being called an "interim solution" for Berlin.

This means that, in effect, the ultimatum will be withdrawn for a while and, with some slight changes, the Western Allies will be able to exercise the same rights and privileges as heretofore. This device is known as a "modus vivendi" — a method of getting along temporarily on the same basis as before. But this very concession implies that at a moment's notice the threat to Berlin can be renewed.

In the center of the whole dilemma here is the question of how to deal with the East German puppet regime. Moscow insists that it will soon sign a "peace treaty" with the so-called government of East Germany and that the Western governments will have to deal with that government. This is called "de facto" recognition as distinguished from "de jure" or legal recognition — a differentiation developed in international law.

THEORETICALLY there is a difference but actually the conduct of business or diplomatic relations with East Germany would be hailed behind the Iron Curtain as a sign that the Western allies had capitulated. It would discourage the people of "captive" states like Hungary who have been hoping that the Western countries would stand firm against every scheme that would imply an affirmation of the Soviet role as master and conqueror.

The road to world domination is made easier by just such apparently small concessions that involve a big principle. When symbols of a great cause are disregarded, the aggressor is encouraged and liberty-loving peoples become discouraged.

Only through an aroused public opinion throughout the world can war be prevented. The address last Thursday night to the American people by Secretary of State Christian Herter was a masterful and persuasive presentation of the American case but it is a sad fact that most of the newspapers in Europe quoted only a few paragraphs from it.

The entire address should have been printed in full text in all European papers, even if advertising space had to be purchased to do it.

The entire address should have been given to the peoples of Europe both in print and over the radio. That's what the "Voice of America" is for and what Congress ought to appropriate money for — it wouldn't cost even a tiny fraction of what one military missile costs today. It might be very helpful, indeed, in promoting the cause of peace.

Round And Round We Go

By Truman Twill

I keep hearing chortles from city mice about a big movement back to town, like this one in the New York Herald Tribune:

"So welcome back, suburbanites one and all. You help to renew our vigor, you bring us fresh ideas. For as E. B. White has said, 'Commuters give the city its tidal restlessness, nature gives it solidity and continuity; but the settlers give it passion.' "

The reference, of course, is to the now familiar fact that thousands of people who moved to the suburbs are moving back to big cities. But like most chortles of this kind, the provocation is a phony statistic.

Cities, population-wise, are not quite holding their own. Whoever is moving into them is a little less than an even trade for the people who are moving out of them. What is happening, of course, is that a cycle has evolved in which people now are meeting people coming back.

There comes a time, perhaps, when there is too much pleasure in the country for the dwindling physical and mental resources of aging human beings who moved there to broaden their range of living. So they seek refuge in urban hideaways, where there is no grass to mow, no fields to tramp over and no zephyrs to breathe on them softly and lure them into adventures. This is as it should be.

Their places will be filled by new candidates for the exhausting life of suburbia in orbit.

But this is happening only in relation to the biggest cities. Elsewhere, the trend is all outward, to the perimeter. This is because the perimeter still is not too remote. It is only when dispersion reaches such proportions that people are an hour and a half and two hours from home base that they feel drawn back to it.

Perhaps this is going to reveal something about the nature of the modern city. Perhaps it is going to make it clear that the sole basis of municipal homogeneity is time — that all people who live an hour from one another consider themselves as members of the same group.

The next big move in real estate development may be apartment houses built in the midst of fields, where land is cheap and the view on all sides is magnificent.

The time is not too far distant when transportation will be on endless belts and by electronically operated vehicles that will move endlessly on loop highways, gliding to curb stops to discharge and pick up passengers.

Everybody will live close to a one-way throughway. There will be no special point in living in the center, because the main stem will be an endless circle looped around the outside.

The logic is there and the pattern will emerge eventually, when the chowderheads and chatterboxes have exhausted themselves in arguments.

I do not believe there ever will be a time in the United States when people will be confined involuntarily in cities. From now on it will be increasingly as it has been for a generation. There will be a free choice as far as the place of residency is concerned, subject only to the time consumed in going to and from work.

Those of us who can live in the country and still get to and from our jobs in a half hour or less are privileged far beyond our ability to realize how well off we are compared with people who must pay three to four hours a day in time in order to enjoy space, beauty and the option of raising tomatoes.

Will One Revolt Lead To Another?

As recently as 1946, state and local government spent only three billion dollars. That was a reflection, of course, of a federal policy of starving local and state government during wartime.

It was assumed that state and local needs could be deferred until the war was over, then met on a catch-up basis. This year, the comparable total is 49 billion dollars.

States and cities are still trying to catch up — building highway systems that had deteriorated, replacing public buildings, rehabilitating public faciltes, catching up to public demand for water supplies and sewage systems.

This is not pointed out, unfortunately, by U.S. News & World Report in an article designed to attract wide attention by suggesting that local taxpayers are entering a stage of revolt. The magazine presents all the evidence that enormous sums are being spent but does not explain that the expenditures were deferred, first by the depression of the '30s, then by the war of the '40s.

It is entirely likely, nevertheless, that the tax burden imposed by the catch-up spending will start a revolt. All states are in tax trouble; all cities are in trouble too.

People are continuing to demand services and facilities without being willing to pay for them. They are striking out in a mood of revolt against the things closest to hand while continuing to send amounts of money to Washington for distribution throughout the world.

It is an odd circumstances that rumblings of tax revolt always are local and state in origin; that there never is any rumbling against the federal government. The supposedly outlandish total of 49 billion dollars for local and state government is about the same as the item for national defense in the federal budget — the one that is supposedly untouchable.

There is one formula for deciding quickly where to start a tax revolt, if that is going to be the popular thing to do. Make a list of the cost of operating schools and the several local layers of government that provide day-by-day services, like street maintenance, police protection and the like. Add to it the cost of operating state services, like highway maintenance, public welfare institutions, poor relief and so on.

If the total is greater than the total of your federal income tax, plus federal excise taxes, local and state government are costing too much. In most cases, their combined cost is peanuts compared with the cost of federal government.

Water, Water, Somewhere . . .

The Ohio Senate's Agriculture and Conservation Committee has stuck to its guns in differing with Gov. DiSalle over how the state's water policy should be administered.

The governor has let it be known he wants the proposed new State Water Commission to be an agency of the new Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The Senate committee, in recommending a bill which would establish a water commission, has backed up Sen. Danny D. Johnson (D-New Philadelphia) in insisting that the the new commission should be on its own in the Department of Natural Resources, with that department's Division of Water as its administrative arm.

There is no disagreement on the need for a commission to oversee the use and conservation of Ohio's precious water supply and to tackle flood control. The governor and Sen. Johnson agree on that. The disagreement comes only in where and under whom the water commission should function.

The weight of the arguments seems to be on the side of Sen. Johnson. He is backed up by such recognized experts as C. V. Youngquist, who has been Ohio's respected water chief for a quarter of a century; Bryce Browning of New Philadelphia, who masterminded the highly successful operation of the Muskingum Conservancy District; John H. Byrne of the Lake Erie Watershed Foundation, and Sen. Johnson himself, who for years has made a close study of water.

The Johnson bill provides for the triple needs of the citizens of Ohio in water management: (1) Careful conservation so that what we have will not be wasted for the future, (2) proper use and development of future supply and (3) control of floods.

The means for accomplishing all three have been developed over the years by the U.S. Corps of Engineers and Mr. Youngquist's agency. What Ohio needs is a way to use the means.

Israel Outlived The Question Mark

As celebrations of Israel's 11th anniversary go forward here, a curious situation has developed in Israel. The year-long celebration of the new state's 10th anniversary has turned the 11th into an anti-climax. Everything that could be done has been done.

So intensively was the celebrative mood cultivated during the full year set aside for exuberance over the first 10 years of survival that nothing was left in reserve. The 11th anniversary will be of one day's duration, as will all future "independence days."

Those first 10 years were the hardest, because over them stood the question mark of skepticism. Could Israel survive?

Once that had been answered in the affirmative, all future questions could be dealt with in the normal course of events. There will be tough ones; there are some tough ones seeking answers now. But they will not be insurmountable.

Israel has outlived even the Arabian determination to destroy it. It has been in existence long enough to make objective appraisals of its own rate of progress. It has found its proper role as the link of liaison between the new nations of Asia and Africa and the established nations with which it maintains strong international relationships. Its people have developed confidence. Secure in the knowledge that their security is more than their own affair, they are developing national stability.

What is said to be true about conditions in Israel seems to be true generally. There isn't much worth saying about Israel's survival on the occasion of its 11th anniversary that hasn't been said.

Let's Not Forget The Teachers

The school term is nearing its close and the seniors and other graduates are about to have their day in the sun.

The general theme of commencement exercises will be focused upon the young people—their past successes and their future hopes.

Graduation, however, also should be a time for reflection upon the role of teachers, administrative officers and boards of education in the school program.

Teachers, naturally, are the direct link in the transmission of knowledge, culture and experience to the pupil, and — along with community attitudes — constitute the main factors in the quality of education. The policies of school officials and boards also are vital to curriculum, teacher standards, school operations and the general level of education.

Commencement belongs to the seniors, but the success of the processes which brought graduation to these young men and women is contingent upon the teachers and school authorities who guided them, whether in the classroom or in related fields.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Postmaster General Summerfield wants the four-cent stamp raised to a nickel. He can't turn out the flood of square, oblong, rectangular and miscellaneously shaped stamps in current colors and sizes without the increase.

The situation is so bad he may have to stick to the same stamp for two successive days. This would make unnecessary the stamp window query, "Do you wish your letter to go by pink, orange, russet, baby-blue, vermillion, canary yellow or peacock purple today?"

There are so many four-cent stamps in so many sizes, shapes and colors that for first time in post office history a customer about to mail a letter has to shop around, with a color chart and a sense of harmony as a guide.

It's so confusing that thousands of women are putting their postage stamps in a trading-stamp book and pasting trading stamps on epistles to Aunt Matilda. (Our missus took some Summerfield four centers downtown and tried to turn them in for coffee percolator.)

MR. SUMMERFIELD is an auto dealer by profession and likes postage stamps with cheesecake decorative motifs, carrying the suggestion of frequent changes in design and model. If Congress votes for the nickel stamp, we suggest that the postmaster general turn out the following:

1. Public Fortitude Stamp, struck off in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Q. Citizen who have shown outstanding patience and valor in the face of unnecessary commemorative stamps.

2. The Quincy D. Pumpernickel Five Center in honor of a post-office window attendant who showed rare devotion to tradition by saying to a customer, "I may lose face for this but I can let you have a postage stamp that looks like postage stamps used to look."

3. The U.S. Mental Alertness Stamp commemorating a period in history when anybody could tell a postage stamp from a Red Cross stamp, a Christmas seal, a cigar band or a record of the last time you had your oil changed.

THE GRAVEST DANGER faced by Harry Truman is that he will believe he is as flawless as described at his birthday banquet. "He's 75," said one banquet guest.

"One more eulogy and he will go to 90 and maybe 100," was a reply. "They're evidently merging him with George Washington, Incorporated and Abe Lincoln Unlimited."

Nevertheless Mr. Truman, entering his 76th year, proves that boys will be boys. His pulse is good, his blood pressure satisfactory to all but his enemies and he has the fastest breaking beanball in history. He has the pioneer constitution and could replace Ward Bond in "Wagon Train," towing two wagons at a time and BY FOOT.

NATIONAL TAVERN WEEK has just been celebrated, with "Visit your tavern" its theme. It shows how American is broadening. We can remember when "Don't drop in at the tavern" was dominant. . . . . "By pass the Tavern Week" would have been more likely.

Small World Isn't It?

Beware Of The Smiling Russian Bear

By Victor Riesel

A section of the Soviet's mysterious KGB, the security police and counterintelligence agency, has been ordered to smear Christian Herter and the rest of the U.S. delegation to the Geneva Foreign Ministers, conference.

Victor Riesel

This section also is under orders from a special Soviet propaganda ministry to stir workers' action against U.S. officials and embassies around the world as the Big Four meet to discuss which war-torn road to take to world brotherhood and peace.

This could well mean rock throwing and tomato and rotten egg fusillades against our people and buildings just as Vice President Nixon was stoned and spat at in South America.

The KGB's special section assigned to the demonstrations against our secretary of state in Geneva is known as the World Federation of Trade Unions.

Its operational chief is a Frenchman, Louis Saillant, the WFTU's general secretary. He's a dedicated man — dedicated to using the Soviet global labor apparatus to capture unions outside the Iron and Bamboo Curtains and turn them against our military and economic operations everywhere.

SO VITAL a world "apparatnik" is M. Saillant that the Soviet secret police's special inner security guard always keeps him under surveillance.

They watch him lest he defect or get drunk and talk too much, inadvertently betraying his permanent mission of sabotaging the West.

Furthermore, all sessions of the WFTU high council are carefully guarded by the KGB.

Until recently, at least, the Russian secret police had an agent with Saillant observing him so closely that he couldn't telephone or write a letter without their knowing it a moment later. This was accomplished by planting one of their agents on him as his confidential secretary.

She was Lisa Kotomkina. Our Central Intelligence Agency learned that she reported directly to one Peter Deriabin, a highly placed KGB official. He has since defected to the West.

THUS THE KGB was able to check minute by minute whether Saillant was obeying orders of the central Moscow agency which, in turn, relayed them from the trade union specialist who sits on the Central Committee of the Communist party USSR, itself.

Saillant's latest maneuver was uncovered by our people when he publicly invited Walter Reuther to come over from West Berlin to a special WFTU meeting in Goerlitz, East Germany, on May 7-10.

In the usual standard operating practice, the Goerlitz meeting was called under a swiftly created front known as "The European Conference of Trade Unions and Workers."

Saillant invited Reuther knowing, of course, that the U.S. Auto Union chief already had flown back to the U.S. But the point would be made that Reuther had ignored conferring with European workers on "the road to peace" and the silencing of thermonuclear explosions.

A LITTLE PROBING by some of our intelligence people revealed that the Goerlitz conference had been planned by Saillant at a WFTU council session in Warsaw last month. At that time they drew up the Goerlitz agenda.

This is what it included:

"During the Goerlitz conference, a special delegation will be appointed to present to the Geneva Foreign Ministers' conference a memorandum on the question of peacefully solving the German question, disarmament . . . The delegation will also take resolutions passed by the workers of industrial enterprises to Geneva."

It is planned that about May 22 rallies will be run across Europe —their target being the Western delegations at the Geneva conference, which by that time will be 11 days bogged down. They'll smear the West as warmongers.

'Strictly Kid Stuff'

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The Soviets—with help from the West, which let itself get tangled in childlike tabletalk — are turning the foreign ministers meeting into the kind of spectacle predicted by Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The ministers, he said, would get bogged in details. He wanted first a summit meeting of the "heavyweights." After they had reached agreements, he said, the ministers could get together to stew over the details.

Khrushchev finally consented to a Big Four foreign ministers conference — United States, Soviet Union, Britain, France — because the West insisted. The meeting was to open Monday. So what happened?

Before the ministers could even hold their first session they got snarled in an argument — over the kind of table to use — which for all practical and realistic purposes was strictly kid stuff.

It hardly added, in the eyes of the world, to the dignity and seriousness of the meeting.

The West, allied with West Germany, refuses to recognize the legitimacy of the East German Communist government, which is a Soviet satellite. But the U.S.S.R. wants exactly this kind of Western recognition for the East Germans.

While all this was being hashed over, the Soviets' Andrei Gromyko got the conference further confused. He demanded both West and East Germany be allowed to take part in the Big Four conference as full participants.

This is exactly what the West didn't want — for East Germany, that is — for fear that Western permission for East Germany to sit in as a full participant might be interpreted as Western recognition for East Germany.

To avoid such an interpretation, the West had been willing for the two Germanys to sit in the conference room but with the understanding they would be merely consultants who couldn't speak unless asked a question.

A compromise was worked out. The two Germanys couldn't be full participants, but instead of having to wait to speak until spoken to, both could ask permission to be heard on any subject.

So the first brief meeting of the Big Four was held and finished. Then Gromyko messed things up for the second meeting. This time he demanded that the Soviet satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia be allowed to take part as full participants.

The West objected. So the second meeting, Tuesday, broke up. It, too, was brief.

None of Gromyko's demands — that the two Germanys, plus Poland and Czechoslovakia take full part in the Big Four conference — should have caused any surprise.

Last March, when the Soviet Union agreed to a Big Four meeting, it demanded the full participation for the two Germanys and Poland and Czechoslovakia.

The reason Gromyko was able to snarl up the meeting now with this demand for those countries was that the Big Four foreign ministers hadn't worked out details before they met. They are tangled in the details now.

But the way Gromyko handled all this can be interpreted as a form of Soviet contempt for the whole idea of a foreign ministers meeting.

He could have made all his demands at one time on the first day. Instead, he stretched them out, delaying by that much any effort by the Big Four to get down to the business which brought them to Geneva, the discussion of Germany.

Soviet To Quibble Lengthily At Geneva

GENEVA

If the people of East Germany wished to send representatives to the big conference in Geneva to settle the fate of Berlin and if some way were devised to make sure that they were chosen through the processes of a free government, there wouldn't be the slightest difficulty here about accepting such envoys. But the realistic truth is that the East German people have nothing to say about it and that most of the so-called "advisers" from East Germany are actually Soviet citizens or handpicked by the Moscow government.

David Lawrence

This really ought to be an overriding issue. Instead, it has been dealt with as a "procedural" question. Yet it presents an opportunity to tell the whole world about the fundamental clause of the present conflict which every now and then emerges as a threat to peace.

Representative government that rests on the consent of the governed is a tradition which has motivated peoples everywhere.

So, when a dictatorship not only enslaves its own citizens but extends its tyrannical hand to keep other nations in captivity, it is surprising that there is any inclination to "negotiate" with such an autocratic government as the Soviet regime is today.

IT WAS no insignificant question to the Moscow strategists. They wanted to show the other "captive" states in eastern Europe that the Moscow government is not only accepted as an equal at Geneva but is acting as the champion of the interests of East Germany and neighboring states now under the control of the Soviets.

The Western foreign ministers had thought that the exchange of notes a few weeks ago with the Moscow government had cleared up the question but, with their customary insincerity, the Soviets declared that the note they sent didn't mean this at all. That's really why this conference is going to be a long one. It's to be just one quibble after another.

Also, Foreign Minister Gromyko, who was taught by Molotov the art of saying "no" to everything and introducing a lot of extraneous topics to confuse the issue, has been instructed to make the going as hard as possible. For presumably that's the Soviet way of proving that a "summit" conference is necessary and that only one man—Nikita Khrushchev — is capable of negotiating for 200 million people and of determining the fate of tens of millions held captive in the smaller countries that border on the Soviet Union.

MOLOTOV is the man who helped Stalin doublecross the Allies. While "negotiating" with Britain, he secretly made the deal which gave Hitler his chance to start World War II.

Gromyko sat for years under Molotov and knows exactly how to mess up any negotiation that the West undertakes. He speaks English and has a smooth manner but everyone knows that he has been instructed to agree to as little as possible here so as to make necessary the "summit" conference.

Already there is speculation as to what "crumb" is to be thrown by Moscow to the Western foreign ministers.

Actually, it may take the form of a declaration by the Soviets agreeing to what is being called an "interim solution" for Berlin.

This means that, in effect, the ultimatum will be withdrawn for a while and, with some slight changes, the Western Allies will be able to exercise the same rights and privileges as heretofore. This device is known as a "modus vivendi" — a method of getting along temporarily on the same basis as before. But this very concession implies that at a moment's notice the threat to Berlin can be renewed.

In the center of the whole dilemma here is the question of how to deal with the East German puppet regime. Moscow insists that it will soon sign a "peace treaty" with the so-called government of East Germany and that the Western governments will have to deal with that government. This is called "de facto" recognition as distinguished from "de jure" or legal recognition — a differentiation developed in international law.

THEORETICALLY there is a difference but actually the conduct of business or diplomatic relations with East Germany would be hailed behind the Iron Curtain as a sign that the Western allies had capitulated. It would discourage the people of "captive" states like Hungary who have been hoping that the Western countries would stand firm against every scheme that would imply an affirmation of the Soviet role as master and conqueror.

The road to world domination is made easier by just such apparently small concessions that involve a big principle. When symbols of a great cause are disregarded, the aggressor is encouraged and liberty-loving peoples become disdiscouraged.

Quota Club Elects Delegates For Washington Convention

Delegates to the international convention June 10-13 at Washington were elected at the luncheon meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel with 24 attending.

Miss Justine Miller will be the delegate and alternates include Miss Gladys DeBolt and Mrs. Clara Hall.

The resolution committee of Quota International submitted a report on which action will be taken during the convention. These recommended the endorsement of the Civil Defense program, making public recognition of its importance to national welfare, and the girls service groups, such as scouts, guides, campfire girls and the YMCA; the recommendation of community enforcement of traffic laws and the promotion of advancement of qualified women for educational, public and civic offices.

Miss Miller, president, conducted business with reports given by Mrs. Eleanor Boice, secretary, and Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, treasurer, reading the annual financial statement.

The group is dispensing with luncheon meetings and in the future they will be evening affairs at members' homes.

Plans were discussed for the birthday party to be held June 23 at the Country Club.

Standing committees appointed for the year include Mrs. Margaret Duffy, Miss Luella Thompson and Mrs. May Hartt, budget; Miss Phyllis Crook and Miss Mildred McGregor, service; Miss Mary White, Mrs. Alma Russell, Miss Myrtle Finnie and Mrs. Irma McGarey, attendance; Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, membership; Mrs. Rebecca Turk, Quince Twig; Mrs. Mary McCullough, chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, Mrs. Ola Weaver, Mrs. Hartt and Miss Crook, social; Mrs. Mildred McKim, ways and means; Dr. Edith Gilmore, program; Mrs. Weaver, world affairs; Miss DeBolt, inter-club relations; Miss Florence Bishop, remembrance, and Mrs. Hall, publicity.

An invitation was read from the East Liverpool Garden Club to attend a tea Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 at the Ohio Power Co.

A 6:30 dinner meeting will be held May 26 at Travelers with Mrs. Jane Jolly in charge of the program.

LISBON — Testimony continued today in Common Pleas Court in a $25,000 personal injury suit filed by Lois J. Bingham, 18, of Leetonia R. D., claiming she was injured permanently in a mishap involving a car driven by James E. Hartmen, 18, of Negley, Dec. 27, 1954, near East Palestine.

This is the second trial as a jury was excused March 12 after it could not reach a verdict following five hours deliberation.

The jury was sworn in Monday and visited the scene of the accident with testimony following. Judge Joel H. Sharp seated the panel, including:

Ernestine Hester, Mary Bulger and Richard Barnes of East Liverpool; Walter Alesi, Herman Wooley, Selma Linder, Melfred Landwert, Marie Pasco and Elsie Strader of Salem; Rose Chamberlain of Lisbon, Carl Dewitt of Salineville and Raymond Mackall of Columbiana. Delegates to the international convention June 10-13 at Washington were elected at the luncheon meeting of the Quota Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel with 24 attending.

Miss Justine Miller will be the delegate and alternates include Miss Gladys DeBolt and Mrs. Clara Hall.

The resolution committee of Quota International submitted a report on which action will be taken during the convention. These recommended the endorsement of the Civil Defense program, making public recognition of its importance to national welfare, and the girls service groups, such as scouts, guides, campfire girls and the YMCA; the recommendation of community enforcement of traffic laws and the promotion of advancement of qualified women for educational, public and civic offices.

Miss Miller, president, conducted business with reports given by Mrs. Eleanor Boice, secretary, and Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, treasurer, reading the annual financial statement.

The group is dispensing with luncheon meetings and in the future they will be evening affairs at members' homes.

Plans were discussed for the birthday party to be held June 23 at the Country Club.

Standing committees appointed for the year include Mrs. Margaret Duffy, Miss Luella Thompson and Mrs. May Hartt, budget; Miss Phyllis Crook and Miss Mildred McGregor, service; Miss Mary White, Mrs. Alma Russell, Miss Myrtle Finnie and Mrs. Irma McGarey, attendance; Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter, membership; Mrs. Rebecca Turk, Quince Twig; Mrs. Mary McCullough, chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, Mrs. Ola Weaver, Mrs. Hartt and Miss Crook, social; Mrs. Mildred McKim, ways and means; Dr. Edith Gilmore, program; Mrs. Weaver, world affairs; Miss DeBolt, inter-club relations; Miss Florence Bishop, remembrance, and Mrs. Hall, publicity.

An invitation was read from the East Liverpool Garden Club to attend a tea Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 at the Ohio Power Co.

A 6:30 dinner meeting will be held May 26 at Travelers with Mrs. Jane Jolly in charge of the program.

E. D. Schorr, Ex-Ohio GOP Head, Taken

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Edward D. Schorr, former state chairman of the Republican Party, died Monday at Mt. Carmel Hospital here. He was 65. The cause of death was not listed.

Schorr served as GOP state chairman from 1930 to 1946 and remained a top state policymaker for the party until 1952, when he was named chairman of the Committee on Political Research and Development.

He was a native of Cincinnati and became active in politics there more than 30 years ago.

He became Hamilton County chairman of the Republican Party in 1926. As such, he helped bring about the election in 1928 of Myers Y. Cooper as governor of Ohio.

Cooper, also a Cincinnatian, rewarded Schorr by appointing him state commerce director. When Cooper was defeated for re-election two years later, Schorr remained in Columbus and became state party chairman.

Because he had maintained voting residence in Hamilton County, he became a center of controversy within the party in 1952, when he ran for election as a delegate to the Republican National Convention from Hamilton County. His right to do so was contested by a group of Ohioans pledged to Harold Stassen. Schorr was pledged to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

He was also a delegate to the 1956 convention.

Utility Taxes Distributed In West Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP) — The State Auditor's Office completed today the distribution of $9,504,684.35 in second-half utility taxes for 1958 among counties, municipalities and the state sinking fund.

Utility taxes stemming from a total assessed valuation of $858,735,900 totaled $17,276,768.59. All but $3,601.26 of the taxes due was collected.

Supervisor Harry C. Deisher of the Utility Tax Division in the Auditor's Office said the second-half distribution was broken down this way:

The sheriffs of the various counties, $7,253,284.76; to the Auditor's Office for amounts owed the state by counties for hospitalization of mental patients, $37,673.07; to the sinking fund, $1,589,895.80, and to municipalities, $623,830.72.

An earlier distribution after collection of first-half 1958 taxes due last Nov. 1 totaled $7,723,875, Deisher said. Also deposited in the state's general fund from second-half collections was $44,607.98.

The greater portion of the money distributed among counties on a basis proportionate to utility holdings goes for current school purposes, with some likewise going into the county general funds.

The distribution to the sinking fund is for retirement of county and municipal bonds, and for interest payments. Municipalities use their allocations for current expenses.

Cabell, $271,987; Fayette, $362,679; Harrison, $248,858; Kanawha, $1,019,872; Logan, $205,779; Marion, $245,270; Marshall, $126,656; Mercer, $193,148; Mingo, $255,667. Monongalia, $203,415; McDowell, $357,130; Ohio, $143,748; Raleigh, $252,034; Summers, $134,632; Wayne, $353,154; Wood, $78,041; Wyoming, $121,846.

Amounts going to municipalities included these:

Huntington, $42,786; Clarksburg, $20,317; Charleston, $42,546; Glasgow in Kanawha County, site of a large power plant, $31,206; South Charleston, $14,687.

Logan, $15,503; Fairmont, $12,496; Rivesville in Marion County, $22,986; Bluefield, $25,082; Wheeling, $35,953; Beckley, $14,226; Hinton, $11,740, and Parkersburg, $20,345.

3 Being Held For Aiding In Jail Escape

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Three men were held today on charges of aiding accused bank robber Darl Dee Parker, 27, of Canton, in his escape from the Allen County jail at Fort Wayne, Ind. June 10.

He was captured the same day in a gun battle in which he was wounded and has been under treatment in federal prison hospitals most of the time since then.

James Pobas Jr., about 40, and Robert P. Payne, 31, both of Canton, were nabbed here and taken to Cleveland under $50,000 bond each pending trial in Indiana.

Parker's brother, Robert, was apprehended in Wheeling, W. Va., and is being held there.

Darl Dee Parker was indicted in the $50,104 robbery of the Rudisill Boulevard branch of Lincoln National Bank in Fort Wayne Oct. 18, 1957. He stands trial for bank robbery there Monday.

PTA Executives Plan Coverdish

Plans for a coverdish dinner and installation of officers for the McKinley Parent-Teacher Association of Wellsville were completed at an executive meeting Monday night at the home of Jack Lanam, past president on Highland Ave.

Aguin Bowling, past president, will conduct the installation at 7:30 Monday night at the school. Members are to bring table service and a coverdish for the dinner at 6.

Mrs. Everet Bunfil, member of a committee setting up rules for the awarding of a $300 scholarship fund next year by the County PTA Council, will explain the plan in which seven units of the county are expected to participate.

The group decided to purchase aluminum folding table and reading books for each of the four rooms in the school. The PTA unit will hold a picnic for the children of the East End School May 22 at Roadside Park. A bake sale will be held Saturday at the MacLean Insurance office.

Children who do not go for tomatoes may accept stewed ones in a mildly flavored chili con carne.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Mrs. Wilson was sentenced to the Women's Reformatory at Marysville for theft of $14,501 in county relief funds.

Thought Only Of Daughter

Thankful Mother Relates Events After Plane Crash

By MRS. ARTHUR C. EATON as told to
The Associated Press

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP)—All I could think of when the plane went over the hill was saving Pamela. I've said a lot of prayers of thanksgiving that we both managed to get out. I don't think we're hurt at all.

Pamela — she's 8 months old—and I boarded the Capital Airlines plane at Pittsburgh to fly home to Atlanta, Ga. We'd been visiting my parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Jones, in Finleyville, near Pittsburgh.

Pamela was asleep in the seat beside me when the wreck came. I can't remember a lot of what happened in the next few minutes, but I did grab Pamela up in my arms.

Then I found I couldn't unfasten my safety belt. I could see the flames around the plane — don't know whether they were coming from an engine or where.

A man I found out later was Dr. Anthony Susan (38-year-old resident of 204 Church Lane in Pittsburgh) picked Pamela up and carried her out of the plane. Then another man freed me from the safety belt.

I was some distance behind Dr. Susan and Pamela. I remember a stewardess saying not to shove, just take it slowly.

Pamela was really frightened, and she cried for about an hour and a half. They took us to a hospital for any emergency treatment we might need. They gave Pamela a sedative to quiet her down, but she's fine now.

I'm 27, and my husband is a candy and food broker in Atlanta. He called while I still was at the hospital. I don't know how he found out about the accident, unless Capital in Atlanta called him.

Right now, I just want to get home to Atlanta. There's another plane at 8:20 p.m. and please, make sure I'm on it.

I want to get home as soon as I can.

Couple To Fly To Jerusalem For Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Martin M. Gluchow, 3130 St. Clair Ave., will attend the B'nai B'rith's triennial convention in Jerusalem May 25-29.

Termed an "airborne" convention, the Gluchows will be among the 1,300 persons traveling by chartered flights to Israel for the five-day meeting. Twelve chartered flights will carry the delegates from the United States and Canada from Idlewild Airport in New York.

Flights also will be made from other countries. This is B'nai B'rith's first convention outside the United States in the 116-year history of the organization. Each delegate will spend at least 11 days in Israel, joining in organized tours of the country on days preceding and following the convention sessions. The delegates also will visit philanthropic institutions established by B'nai B'rith.

One unique convention service will be a "missing relatives bureau" to assist delegates in locating family relations.

A president will be elected. Candidates are Herman Fineberg of Pittsburgh, a member of the national commission of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith and recently elected president of the United Jewis Federation of Pittsburgh, and Label A. Katz of New Orleans. Philip M. Klutznick of Park Forest, Ill., retiring president, has served six years.

State Expected To Rest Case Today In Rape-Slaying Trial

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Janice O. Porter's reported reaction when she realized she was about to be sexually assaulted and perhaps killed was described Tuesday at the first degree murder trial of David S. Smith.

The prosecution is expected to rest its case today. Mrs. Irene Smith, the defendant's mother, will be the first witness.

Sheriff Stacey Hall, the state's final witness, testified Tuesday that he questioned Smith about the slaying shortly after the youth was arrested.

Hall said Smith told how he forced Mrs. Porter to blindfold herself, then tied her hands behind her back and gagged her. About that time, Smith was quoted, Mrs. Porter sensed she was about to be sexually assaulted and told him:

"You don't have to go through all this trouble. I'll let you."

Smith, Hall said, related that he pulled the gag tighter, used a scissors to cut the woman's dress and slip down the front, raped her, then fired a bullet into her forehead.

Moments later, Smith said he returned to the bedroom where the assault occurred, found Mrs. Porter still alive and fired at her a second time, the sheriff testified.

Hall said that two days after the murder, Smith was taken back to the scene—the home of Mrs. Porter's father-in-law near here—to re-enact the crime. During that interrogation, Smith said Mrs. Porter had asked him: "Are you going to kill me?"

To that, the sheriff testified, Smith said he had replied, "I haven't made up my mind." But Hall said Smith confided to him, "Of course, that was a lie."

Rebellion In Tibet Appears To Be Dying

NEW DELHI (AP)—The rebellion in Tibet appears to be dying. It may already be dead.

Reports reaching the border towns of Kalimpong and Gangtok indicate the uprising of Khampa tribesmen, which flared fiercely late in March and early April, has been snuffed out by the superior guns of Red Chinese occupation forces.

The provisional government which the resistance forces proclaimed a month ago has not been heard from.

Refugees straggling out of the Himalayan land of the lamas picture it as held firmly under the heel of Chinese overlords determined to prove they can rule without public approval — and without the Dalai Lama if need be.

Killed In Collision

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A car-truck collision Tuesday killed Mrs. Margaret Holloway, 76, of nearby Lyndon. Her husband, Clyde, 78, was critically injured when their car collided head-on with a sand truck on Ohio 28, a half-mile east of here.

City Judge Explains State Law On Township Speed Control

Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw today cited a section of state law governing establishment of township speed limits as a result of the apparent confusion over validity of Liverpool Township regulations arising out of a woman's arrest for speeding over the weekend on Armstrong Ln.

The court pointed out that Section 4511.21 of the Revised Code provides that "whenever local authorities determine on an engineering and traffic investigation that the prima facie speed permitted on any part of a highway under their jurisdiction is greater than reasonable and safe. . ." they may decide upon a "reasonable and safe speed limit," but only with the concurrence of the director of the State Highway Department.

Only then can the speed limit be altered and notice of the regulations must be posted along the roads affected in the form of speed limit signs, the judge pointed out.

Judge Brokaw declared that he did not find a Calcutta woman innocent of speeding because the township has no speed regulations, but rather because "I did not have the regulations before me." The judge commented from the bench when dismissing the speeding charge that township trustees had not certified copies of their speed regulations to his court.

Whether or not Liverpool Townships regulations are valid still is a moot issue, as the judge's comment today did not cover that point. However, township trustees certified to the court yesterday copies of their regulations, but they evidently had not been approved in advance by the State Highway Department.

The judge's comment today came on the heels of a statement yesterday by Liverpool Constable Wilbert Taylor that a rash of hot-rodding incidents was reported Monday night after dismissal of the township speeding charge.

Hancock Still Waits Utility Tax Allotment

Hancock County has not received its disbursement for public utility taxes from the state, according to Ed Mayhew, treasurer.

Drunk Driving Penalty Given To 2 City Men

Two East Liverpoo' men were fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail today by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw, who continued a hearing until May 20 at 9 a. m. for a third defendant facing the same charge, driving while intoxicated.

The fines and jail terms were decreed for Maurice Reed Stowers, 23, of 1711 Park Ave., arrested early Tuesday on Park Ave., and Eck Quinn, 257 Center St., cited at 12:49 this morning on Pennsylvania Ave. Their driver's licenses also were suspended for six months.

The continuance was granted to Leroy F. Black, 22, of 2314 Harvey Ave., who asked time to obtain defense counsel. Black and Stowers both were arrested at 2:40 yesterday morning while trailing each other in their cars on Park Ave., police said. Both pleaded not guilty at arraignment yesterday, but Stowers switched his plea today.

Police said Quinn was cited by Patrolman S. E. Hayes, who noted the Beechwood man driving a pickup truck on Pennsylvania Ave. without headlights and weaving back and forth across the center line.

Meanwhile, Vernon L. Peterman, 651 Bradshaw Ave., was fined $10 and costs today when Judge Brokaw convicted him of reckless driving. He pleaded not guilty.

Peterman was arrested at 6:09 a. m. Monday by Patrolman Paul Carter, who testified he observed Peterman pass a string of 10 to 15 cars on Pennsylvania Ave. near Pallissey St. and another string on Harvey Ave. Carter said he overtook Peterman on Harvey Ave. near the state line.

Out Of The Air

10 A Year—Or Bust

By FRED COE
TV Producer

Dear John:

As you know, on May 6 we members of the television industry awarded our family favorites a bronze gargoyle called the Emmy, in much the same way that a few weeks ago the motion picture industry distributed, with seemingly satisfied assurance, a bronze symbol of popularity called Oscar to its favorite members.

If you saw the latter's telecast you'll remember that they handed out only 23 Oscars. As a television show, it was a pretty good move.

John, would you believe it, we television voters were offered an even wider variety of classifications from which to choose our favorites. Each classification had an average of five to six choices which already had been nominated: the idea here was to enumerate our choice in order of preference — say from 1 to 6 — sort of like marking the correct statement on one of those multiple-choice tests we used to take in college.

I REMEMBER one question on a political science exam that asked who was the current ambassador to Italy (this was in 1936): Check one of four, it said: Cordell Hull, William Phillips, Breckenridge Long, Joe DiMaggio. Proceeding on the basis that the least obvious answer is the correct one, I checked you know who.

Now I wouldn't want you to get me wrong: I believe in all such societies as the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences following a broad democratic line — why, I remember well that I got slugged challenging an undemocratic procedure introduced on my college campus, three double - breasted seniors had crammed the ballot box electing a sexy brownette queen of the homecoming game.

BELIEVE ME, I'm for the democratic way, but after looking over my academy ballot my ethics got lost somewhere between "Cimarron City" and "The Naked City"; I was ready to use "the least obvious choice technique" again upon seeing the nearly 300 nominees, including such artistic and scientific achievements as Peter Gunn; Young People's Concerts — N. Y. Philharmonic; Keep Talking; Hamlet; Art Carney Meets "Peter and the Wolf"; Shady Deal at Sunny Acres; Saga of Waco Williams; along with Two Graves for Swan Valley; Projection '59; Lassie; Efrem Zimbalist Jr.; Paladin; "Pete" in December Bride; ZaSu Pitts, who plays Miss Nugent in Oh Susanna-Gale Storm Show; Best Performance by an Actor (Continuing Character) in a Musical or Variety Series: Steve Allen, Perry Como, Jack Paar, in the Steve Allen Show, Perry Como Show, Jack Paar Show Series, playing the role of Steve Allen, Perry Como, Jack Paar; Blake Edwards; Leonard Stern, Stan Burns, Herb Sargent, Bill Dana, Don Hinkley, Hal Goodman, Larry Klein for Best Writing of a Single Musical or Variety Program, Steve Allen Show with Peter Ustinov, Louis Armstrong, Van Cliburn, Steve Allen Show; and Carol Reed in The Lat Weather and Sports, and so on and so on and . . .

As a matter of fact in some categories I admit I was compelled to use the old college technique.

THE ACADEMY appears to have taken the old democratic principle of the greatest number of people electing their chosen representatives to a new level of democratization.

When I got through marking my academy vote I would have sworn I was a chosen representative electing the greatest number of people.

Such a democratic responsibility has even upset our own Ed Sullivan. Did you read what he said to Marie Torre? Ed said::

"When I got into the academy three years ago, there were 41 categories, and one of our first jobs was to reduce the classifications. But now look what's happened. For 1958 there are 42 categories. This is terrible. There shouldn't be more than 10 awards . . ."

Now, I'm not so sure that this suggestion of Ed's about 10 awards each year is the most democratic suggestion I've ever heard, but believe me, John, if he proposes this to the Academy, I'm going to campaign for his "10 a year" platform.

I THINK ED was suggesting that if there were only 10 awards somehow his presentation of the Moiseyev dancers wouldn't have been overlooked.

And, John, I'm suggesting that if there were only 10 awards, my presentation of J. P. Miller's "The Days of Wine and Roses" wouldn't have been overlooked either.

Move over in the sour grapes arbor, Ed — I'm picking them too.)

I hope you'll back up Ed's platform for next year — 10 a year or bust.

Firemen To Hold Calcutta Carnival

Calcutta volunteer firemen will sponsor a carnival June 2, if an official of the show gives approval this week of a site near the fire station for erecting a huge tent.

Plans were made at a meeting Monday night with Norman Neal, president, presiding.

Neal said an agent of the Beers & Barnes Circus from the Pittsburgh area will inspect a site near the Calcutta fire hall this week where the show will be staged upon his recommendation.

Firemen also voted to enter fire apparatus in two summer parades —June 3 at Negley and July 18 at Newell—and to sponsor concession stands in carnivals of Liverpool Township, west, firemen May 26-30 and Lawrenceville volunteer firemen June 2-6.

Dates for the Calcutta firemen's carnival are Aug. 3-8, Neal said. Nineteen attended the meeting, with the next to be Monday night at 8:30.

Firemen worked on construction of sidewalks and landscaping before the meeting.

28 Candidates List Expenses

Twenty - eight candidates who sought party nominations for municipal and village posts in the May 5 primaries have filed the required sworn statements of campaign expenses with the County Election Board, including seven who ran in East Liverpool.

The successful campaign to renominate Council President B. E. Warner on the Republican ticket cost $317, his committee reported. The statement was filed by Jack L. Green, chairman of the Warner for Council President Committee. Warner also filed a report showing no personal expenses.

Atty. Lawrence W. Smith Jr. said his unsuccessful campaign for the Democratic nomination for city solicitor cost $144. Clinton R. Seevers, nominated for councilman-at-large on the Democratic ticket, said he spent $12.

Four other local candidates said they spent nothing, including Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, who was unopposed for renomination on the GOP slate. The negative reports also were filed by Auditor H. J. Gallimore and Councilman Samuel B. Webber of the Fourth Ward, also renominated without a contest on the Republican ticket.

J. E. Curry, unsuccessful GOP candidate for councilman-at-large, also filed a report showing no expenses.

Robert Harding, who won the Republican nomination for mayor of East Palestine, said he spent $37. Mayor Paul Merwin, whom he defeated, reported expenses of $14.

Charles Donaldson, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for mayor of Wellsville, reported expenses of $89. Mayor Karl J. Lindner of Salineville, defeated in a bid for renomination in a Republican race, said he spent $33. James Pastore, defeated Democratic candidate for Salineville mayor, reported no expenses.

The reports are required under the so-called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. They must be filed by all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and by committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

The deadline for the reports is June 19 at 4 p. m., according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board.

Romeo, Juliet Of Jet Age

Eddie, Liz Winging Today For Honeymoon In Spain

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eddie Fisher and Liz Taylor, the Romeo and Juliet of the jet age, winged today toward a honeymoon in Spain.

The famed newlyweds spent their wedding night sitting up in a TWA jet airliner speeding from Los Angeles to New York.

They had to spend a few hours between planes in New York before they could board another nonstop flight to Madrid. There they are to make another quick change into a charter plane for Barcelona, where a honeymoon yacht will meet them.

The cruise will be a leisurely 10-day trip up the northeast coast of Spain, with occasional stops at fishing villages—where the honeymooners probably won't be recognized.

"And that's all right by us," the two chorused as they boarded a plane at Las Vegas, Nev., for Los Angeles Tuesday night.

Fisher said he was so nervous and happy that "I don't need a plane to get me there."

His schedule in Las Vegas was at jet age speed, but on the ground. At 1:30 p.m., he left his suite at the Tropicana Hotel and joined the Jewish War Veterans, Las Vegas branch, in a brief ceremony at the hotel's front door. Then a limousine sped him to the county courthouse, where in 10½ minutes he got a Nevada divorce from actress Debbie Reynolds, alleging mental cruelty.

A quick phone call brought Liz to join him in the marriage license bureau across the hall from the divorce court. Then, 3½ hours after the divorce, the two were wed in brief Jewish rites performed by two rabbis in a residential area synagogue.

10 A Year—Or Bust

By FRED COE
TV Producer

Dear John:

As you know, on May 6 we members of the television industry awarded our family favorites a bronze gargoyle called the Emmy, in much the same way that a few weeks ago the motion picture industry distributed, with seemingly satisfied assurance, a bronze symbol of popularity called Oscar to its favorite members.

If you saw the latter's telecast you'll remember that they handed out only 23 Oscars. As a television show, it was a pretty good move.

John, would you believe it, we television voters were offered an even wider variety of classifications from which to choose our favorites. Each classification had an average of five to six choices which already had been nominated: the idea here was to enumerate our choice in order of preference — say from 1 to 6 — sort of like marking the correct statement on one of those multiple-choice tests we used to take in college.

I REMEMBER one question on a political science exam that asked who was the current ambassador to Italy (this was in 1936): Check one of four, it said: Cordell Hull, William Phillips, Breckenridge Long, Joe DiMaggio. Proceeding on the basis that the least obvious answer is the correct one, I checked you know who.

Now I wouldn't want you to get me wrong: I believe in all such societies as the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences following a broad democratic line — why, I remember well that I got slugged challenging an undemocratic procedure introduced on my college campus, three double - breasted seniors had crammed the ballot box electing a sexy brownette queen of the homecoming game.

BELIEVE ME, I'm for the democratic way, but after looking over my academy ballot my ethics got lost somewhere between "Cimarron City" and "The Naked City"; I was ready to use "the least obvious choice technique" again upon seeing the nearly 300 nominees, including such artistic and scientific achievements as Peter Gunn; Young People's Concerts — N. Y. Philharmonic; Keep Talking; Hamlet; Art Carney Meets "Peter and the Wolf"; Shady Deal at Sunny Acres; Saga of Waco Williams; along with Two Graves for Swan Valley; Projection '59; Lassie; Efrem Zimbalist Jr.; Paladin; "Pete" in December Bride; ZaSu Pitts, who plays Miss Nugent in Oh Susanna-Gale Storm Show; Best Performance by an Actor (Continuing Character) in a Musical or Variety Series: Steve Allen, Perry Como, Jack Paar, in the Steve Allen Show, Perry Como Show, Jack Paar Show Series, playing the role of Steve Allen, Perry Como, Jack Paar; Blake Edwards; Leonard Stern, Stan Burns, Herb Sargent, Bill Dana, Don Hinkley, Hal Goodman, Larry Klein for Best Writing of a Single Musical or Variety Program, Steve Allen Show with Peter Ustinov, Louis Armstrong, Van Cliburn, Steve Allen Show; and Carol Reed in The Lat Weather and Sports, and so on and so on and . . .

As a matter of fact in some categories I admit I was compelled to use the old college technique.

THE ACADEMY appears to have taken the old democratic principle of the greatest number of people electing their chosen representatives to a new level of democratization.

When I got through marking my academy vote I would have sworn I was a chosen representative electing the greatest number of people.

Such a democratic responsibility has even upset our own Ed Sullivan. Did you read what he said to Marie Torre? Ed said::

"When I got into the academy three years ago, there were 41 categories, and one of our first jobs was to reduce the classifications. But now look what's happened. For 1958 there are 42 categories. This is terrible. There shouldn't be more than 10 awards . . ."

Now, I'm not so sure that this suggestion of Ed's about 10 awards each year is the most democratic suggestion I've ever heard, but believe me, John, if he proposes this to the Academy, I'm going to campaign for his "10 a year" platform.

I THINK ED was suggesting that if there were only 10 awards somehow his presentation of the Moiseyev dancers wouldn't have been overlooked.

And, John, I'm suggesting that if there were only 10 awards, my presentation of J. P. Miller's "The Days of Wine and Roses" wouldn't have been overlooked either.

Move over in the sour grapes arbor, Ed — I'm picking them too.)

I hope you'll back up Ed's platform for next year — 10 a year or bust.

Firemen To Hold Calcutta Carnival

Calcutta volunteer firemen will sponsor a carnival June 2, if an official of the show gives approval this week of a site near the fire station for erecting a huge tent.

Plans were made at a meeting Monday night with Norman Neal, president, presiding.

Neal said an agent of the Beers & Barnes Circus from the Pittsburgh area will inspect a site near the Calcutta fire hall this week where the show will be staged upon his recommendation.

Firemen also voted to enter fire apparatus in two summer parades —June 3 at Negley and July 18 at Newell—and to sponsor concession stands in carnivals of Liverpool Township, west, firemen May 26-30 and Lawrenceville volunteer firemen June 2-6.

Dates for the Calcutta firemen's carnival are Aug. 3-8, Neal said. Nineteen attended the meeting, with the next to be Monday night at 8:30.

Firemen worked on construction of sidewalks and landscaping before the meeting.

28 Candidates List Expenses

Twenty - eight candidates who sought party nominations for municipal and village posts in the May 5 primaries have filed the required sworn statements of campaign expenses with the County Election Board, including seven who ran in East Liverpool.

The successful campaign to renominate Council President B. E. Warner on the Republican ticket cost $317, his committee reported. The statement was filed by Jack L. Green, chairman of the Warner for Council President Committee. Warner also filed a report showing no personal expenses.

Atty. Lawrence W. Smith Jr. said his unsuccessful campaign for the Democratic nomination for city solicitor cost $144. Clinton R. Seevers, nominated for councilman-at-large on the Democratic ticket, said he spent $12.

Four other local candidates said they spent nothing, including Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, who was unopposed for renomination on the GOP slate. The negative reports were filed by Auditor H. J. Gallimore and Councilman Samuel B. Webber of the Fourth Ward, also renominated without a contest on the Republican ticket.

J. E. Curry, unsuccessful GOP candidate for councilman-at-large, also filed a report showing no expenses.

Robert Harding, who won the Republican nomination for mayor of East Palestine, said he spent $37. Mayor Paul Merwin, whom he defeated, reported expenses of $14.

Charles Donaldson, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for mayor of Wellsville, reported expenses of $89. Mayor Karl J. Lindner of Salineville, defeated in a bid for renomination in a Republican race, said he spent $33. James Pastore, defeated Democratic candidate for Salineville mayor, reported no expenses.

The reports are required under the so-called "corrupt practices act," which puts a ceiling on campaign spending. They must be filed by all candidates, whether or not they were successful, and by committees that supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

The deadline for the reports is June 19 at 4 p. m., according to Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board.

Romeo, Juliet Of Jet Age

Eddie, Liz Winging Today For Honeymoon In Spain

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Eddie Fisher and Liz Taylor, the Romeo and Juliet of the jet age, winged today toward a honeymoon in Spain.

They had to spend a few hours between planes in New York before they could board another nonstop flight to Madrid. There they are to make another quick change into a charter plane for Barcelona, where a honeymoon yacht will meet them.

The cruise will be a leisurely 10-day trip up the northeast coast of Spain, with occasional stops at fishing villages—where the honeymooners probably won't be recognized.

"And that's all right by us," the two chorused as they boarded a plane at Las Vegas, Nev., for Los Angeles Tuesday night.

Fisher said he was so nervous and happy that "I don't need a plane to get me there."

His schedule in Las Vegas was at jet age speed, but on the ground. At 1:30 p.m., he left his suite at the Tropicana Hotel and joined the Jewish War Veterans, Las Vegas branch, in a brief ceremony at the hotel's front door. Then a limousine sped him to the county courthouse, where in 10½ minutes he got a Nevada divorce from actress Debbie Reynolds, alleging mental cruelty.

A quick phone call brought Liz to join him in the marriage license bureau across the hall from the divorce court. Then, 3½ hours after the divorce, the two were wed in brief Jewish rites performed by two rabbis in a residential area synagogue.

Workers Discover Ancient Speakeasy

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Workmen clearing the way for construction of a hotel discovered a heavy concrete door leading to an underground hideaway.

Beyond the door was a tiny room still locked with dozens of crocks and jugs, hidden all these years from law officers.

Reports Given For Board On C. Of C. Work

Alvin T. Babb, chairman, explained the recent organization of a congressional action committee, which has been delegated to study national issues before Congress, particularly those that affect business and industry, and report pertinent information to the board.

The large committee, comprised of eight sub-divisions, is designed to deal with major issues that face Congress.

E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, discussed recent activities of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council and plans for an Ohio Valley tour for industrialists which it will sponsor June 28-30.

East Liverpool area residents will be invited to participate in one-day tours, part of the overall visit to the area, during the phase of the trip covering the upper end of the valley area.

The board agreed that the Chamber will co-operate with the Business and Professional Women's Club, which is making tentative plans to sponsor a second School Science Fair next spring. The first of the fairs was held about two months ago at Westgate School.

The trustees were given copies of a report on the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber in late April in Washington. It included reports of the proceedings and digests of the principal speeches.

T. Fred Edwards, president, announced the industrial development committee will meet Tuesday night, May 26, at the Chamber office. An application for membership was accepted from Martinizing Cleaners at E. 5th and Washington Sts., operated by Sam Provenzano.

Reports Given For Board On C. Of C. Work

Alvin T. Babb, chairman, explained the recent organization of a congressional action committee, which has been delegated to study national issues before Congress, particularly those that affect business and industry, and report pertinent information to the board.

The large committee, comprised of eight sub-divisions, is designed to deal with major issues that face Congress.

E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager, discussed recent activities of the Upper Ohio Valley Development Council and plans for an Ohio Valley tour for industrialists which it will sponsor June 28-30.

East Liverpool area residents will be invited to participate in one-day tours, part of the overall visit to the area, during the phase of the trip covering the upper end of the valley area.

The board agreed that the Chamber will co-operate with the Business and Professional Women's Club, which is making tentative plans to sponsor a second School Science Fair next spring. The first of the fairs was held about two months ago at Westgate School.

The trustees were given copies of a report on the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber in late April in Washington. It included reports of the proceedings and digests of the principal speeches.

T. Fred Edwards, president, announced the industrial development committee will meet Tuesday night, May 26, at the Chamber office. An application for membership was accepted from Martinizing Cleaners at E. 5th and Washington Sts., operated by Sam Provenzano.

Grange Crowns Chester Woman

Mrs. Carrie Pugh of Carolina Ave., Chester, was crowned "Grange Mother of the Year" at a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night in Pughtown.

Members of her court included Mrs. John Rice, Mrs. James Cupp, Mrs. Rhody Herron, Mrs. John Herron, Mrs. Charles Mills and Mrs. Paul Cullen. The queen and court members were presented gifts.

A program was presented with readings and songs by children of members. Mrs. Harley Ferguson, lecturer, was chairman.

Lunch was served 70 by a committee headed by Mrs. Pearl Cullen. C. S. Herron, worthy master, presided. The next meeting is May 26.

Council At Wellsville To Get Cruiser Bids

The Wellsville Board of Control said today bids received on a new police cruiser Saturday will be referred back to the finance committee of City Council, which did not appropriate enough money for a new vehicle.

Bids on covering the city dump were refused because the wording was not correct. This will be readvertised.

Bids were received from Grafton Motors for $2,200 for a new Plymouth and from Ideal Chevrolet for $2,800. This includes the trade-in allowed for a 1956 Plymouth cruiser.

Gus Klavuhn and Charles Hoobler bid on covering the dump. The Board of Control is comprised of Mayor William J. Shoub and Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson.

Colavito Wields Big Bat In Tribe's 7-6 Win Over Yankees

Nats' Killebrew Raps Home Runs No. 11 And 12 In 7-4 Win

Cleveland Clings To 1½ Game Lead

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Municipal Stadium in Cleveland is not the only place where the baseball fans cheer the popular Rocky Colavito even when he strikes out. They did it at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night.

In the ninth inning, with Indians on first and second and one out, the Bronx-born Colavito took a mighty cut at Ryne Duren's fast ball and missed it for strike three. The crowd of 34,671 applauded him as he returned to the dugout.

"They must have been my friends and relatives," laughed Rocky in the clubhouse a few minutes later, after the Indians had walked off with a 7-6 decision over the New York Yankees. "Goodness knows there were plenty of them in the stands tonight.

"They always come out when I come to play here. My dad, two brothers and several cousins were here. And I recognized some of my old friends and neighbors in the right field stands. It's nice to see them at the game. I guess that's one reason I always enjoy playing at Yankee Stadium."

He had provided tickets for 35 friends and relatives, including his father and brothers.

Actually, Rocky's friends and relatives had plenty to cheer about. They saw their favorite slam four hits, including a home run, to almost singlehandedly take charge of the Indians' attack on five Yankee hurlers. The tall slugger had a hand in all three Cleveland run - making innings. His homer, off starter and loser Art Ditmar, in the second, opened the scoring.

In the third, with the score tied at 1-1, Rocky socked a run-scoring double in the Indians' big five-run uprising against Ditmar and Duke Maas in which Woodie Held hit a two-run homer. In the fifth, he doubled and although he was picked off base by Bobby Shantz, the Indians went on to score what proved to be the eventual winning run. Rocky added a single, off Jim Coates, in the seventh.

The victory went to Cal McLish to give him a 5-0 record for the season.

Dupas Rates Edge In Fight Tonight

CHICAGO (AP) — Ralph Dupas of New Orleans, a veteran of 92 fights although only 23 years old, is a slight favorite to pad his winning record against rugged Charley Scott tonight.

The welterweight 10-rounder in Chicago Stadium will be televised (ABC, 10 p.m. DST) and scored under the five-point must system.

Scott, 22-year-old Philadelphia puncher, is seeking his fifth straight victory. He has won 22, losing only 2 and battling to 7 draws.

Scott is ranked seventh on the welterweight ladder by both the National Boxing Assn. and Ring magazine. Dupas, with a 75-11-6 record, is rated No. 2 by the NBA and No. 4 by Ring.

'Big Ed' Marks 78th Birthday

A year ago, everybody thought the old Hall of Famer member's days were numbered. Today, his chances of complete recovery remain dubious.

"But I'm looking at things better now," the one-time scourge of the American League told a visiting reporter. "I'm still good for a few more innings."

Big Ed's career began 55 years ago and ended nine years later. In 1908, his darting, slipping pitches won 40 games for the Chicago White Sox.

Now bedridden, he remains wrapped up in the sport that brought him fame. While winning 195 of 311 games, he established a reputation as a great spitball pitcher, and he admits that if he was pitching today he would be a "cheating spitballer."

Walsh has long opposed the spitball ban.

McDevitt Hurls Second Game Without Walks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Danny McDevitt, a fellow never before in danger of being nicknamed "Deadeye," is conducting promising experiments on a guidance system for an old-fashioned missile — the baseball.

For the second time this season, the little Los Angeles lefthander Tuesday night pitched a full nine - inning game without walking a man. And the Dodgers, exploiting his five-hit pitching, whipped Philadelphia 3-1 and pulled into a first-place tie with the Milwaukee Braves.

"It's a matter of concentration," McDevitt said after the 3-1 victory. "I've slowed up my delivery so I can get a better picture of the target. I used to be looking at the hitter and then at the target. Now I go through the motion (of the windup) more slowly, and I don't take my eyes off the spot I'm aiming at."

McDevitt's improvement has been astonishing. In a brief turn with the Dodgers last year, he pitched 48 innings, gave up 31 walks and struck out only 26. He was shipped off to St. Paul with a 2-6 record.

This year, in 30 1-3 innings, he has walked only 6 — and fanned 16. His record is 2-1.

White Sox On Top 4-3 Over Boston

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two months ago Harmon Killebrew figured he'd have a successful year if he stayed with the Washington Senators all season.

At the moment he leads the American League in home runs, with a dozen; in runs batted in, with 28, and in runs scored, with 26.

In five previous tries with the Senators, since he became their first bonus baby in 1954, his total home run output was only 11, his RBI total was 30 and he had scored just 29 runs.

The 22-year-old third baseman, junked Washington's losing skien at three games Tuesday night, driving in five runs with a pair of homers for a 7-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

That left the surprising Senators fourth, three games behind Cleveland's first place Indians, who defeated the New York Yankees 7-6. Chicago's White Sox retained second place, 1½ games back, with a 4-3, 12-inning victory at Boston. Kansas City's game at Baltimore was rained out.

Frank Lary had the Senators blanked on three hits until the sixth inning, when rookie Bob Allison, who drove in the other two Washington runs, doubled. Killebrew followed with a two-run, 420-foot sock. Allison's sacrifice fly and Killebrew's second homer put it away in the seventh against Ray Narleski, after losing reliever Dave Sisler (0-1) had loaded the bases with a pair of walks.

Unbeaten Cal McLish won his fifth for the Indians, who made it with the help of four unearned runs. Rocky Colavito, who had four hits, and Woody Held homered for the Indians against loser Art Ditmar (1-2). Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard and Yogi Berra homered for the Yanks before McLish, 33, gave way to the heat and humidity at New York. Rookie Jim Perry saved it, blanking the champs on one hit while striking out four over the last two frames.

Cleveland's winning run was set up in the fifth on an error by Berra—who had set a major league record for catchers in his last game with a string of 148 errorless games since July 28, 1957.

All the White Sox runs came on homers. Starting right - hander Dick Donovan hit a two-run shot in the second inning and Al Smith put an end to nine scoreless frames for Chicago with a two-run homer in the 12th off losing reliever Murray Wall (1-1). Rookie Rodolfo Arias (2-0) was the winner, although giving up Jackie Jensen's eighth homer in the Boston 12th.

Colavito Wields Big Bat In Tribe's 7-6 Win Over Yankees

Nats' Killebrew Raps Home Runs No. 11 And 12 In 7-4 Win

Cleveland Clings To 1½ Game Lead

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Municipal Stadium in Cleveland is not the only place where the baseball fans cheer the popular Rocky Colavito even when he strikes out. They did it at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night.

In the ninth inning, with Indians on first and second and one out, the Bronx-born Colavito took a mighty cut at Ryne Duren's fast ball and missed it for strike three. The crowd of 34,671 applauded him as he returned to the dugout.

"They must have been my friends and relatives," laughed Rocky in the clubhouse a few minutes later, after the Indians had walked off with a 7-6 decision over the New York Yankees. "Goodness knows there were plenty of them in the stands tonight.

"They always come out when I come to play here. My dad, two brothers and several cousins were here. And I recognized some of my old friends and neighbors in the right field stands. It's nice to see them at the game. I guess that's one reason I always enjoy playing at Yankee Stadium."

He had provided tickets for 35 friends and relatives, including his father and brothers.

Actually, Rocky's friends and relatives had plenty to cheer about. They saw their favorite slam four hits, including a home run, to almost singlehandedly take charge of the Indians' attack on five Yankee hurlers. The tall slugger had a hand in all three Cleveland run - making innings. His homer, off starter and loser Art Ditmar, in the second, opened the scoring.

In the third, with the score tied at 1-1, Rocky socked a run-scoring double in the Indians' big five-run uprising against Ditmar and Duke Maas in which Woodie Held hit a two-run homer. In the fifth, he doubled and although he was picked off base by Bobby Shantz, the Indians went on to score what proved to be the eventual winning run. Rocky added a single, off Jim Coates, in the seventh.

The victory went to Cal McLish to give him a 5-0 record for the season.

White Sox On Top 4-3 Over Boston

Unbeaten Cal McLish won his fifth for the Indians, who made it with the help of four unearned runs. Rocky Colavito, who had four hits, and Woody Held homered for the Indians against loser Art Ditmar (1-2). Mickey Mantle, Elston Howard and Yogi Berra homered for the Yanks before McLish, 33, gave way to the heat and humidity at New York. Rookie Jim Perry saved it, blanking the champs on one hit while striking out four over the last two frames.

Cleveland's winning run was set up in the fifth on an error by Berra—who had set a major league record for catchers in his last game with a string of 148 errorless games since July 28, 1957.

All the White Sox runs came on homers. Starting right - hander Dick Donovan hit a two-run shot in the second inning and Al Smith put an end to nine scoreless frames for Chicago with a two-run homer in the 12th off losing reliever Murray Wall (1-1). Rookie Rodolfo Arias (2-0) was the winner, although giving up Jackie Jensen's eighth homer in the Boston 12th.

Dodgers Win, Braves Lose As Scramble Continues In NL

Pirates Gain 6-5 Decision In 12 Innings

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

A four-game winning streak isn't much, but in the National League it means first place.

The Los Angeles Dodgers won their fourth in a row Tuesday night, beating Philadelphia 3-1 behind the five-hit pitching of young Danny McDevitt. That gave the Dodgers a half-game lead over Milwaukee although the two clubs are tied percentagewise (.600). The Braves lost 7-3 to the Chicago Cubs.

St. Louis kept Cincinnati from making it a virtual three-way tie by beating the Reds 7-4. Pittsburgh defeated San Francisco 6-5 in 12 innings.

No one has been able to put together more than a four-game string in the National League.

The Dodgers now have won seven of their last 10, and McDevitt has two of the three complete games the pitching staff has produced in that span. The 26-year-old lefty (2-1) had a two-hit shutout until the eighth inning when Willie Jones hit his seventh home run. McDevitt walked none, fanned six.

McDevitt singled home the Dodgers' first run in the fifth after loser Gene Conley (1-1) had purposely passed Don Zimmer. The Dodgers scored twice in that frame, getting the other on an error. Duke Snider singled home the final run in the eighth off reliever Jack Meyer.

The Cubs handed five-game winner Lew Burdette his second loss in a row, scoring five in the ninth at Chicago on a home run by Walt Moryn and pinch hitter Earl Averill's first grand slam. Tony Taylor also homered off Burdette. Don Elston (1-1) won it with one inning of scoreless relief.

Rookie righthander Gary Blaylock hit a two-run homer and won his first for the Cards, although needing Bill Smith's relief after Vada Pinson's two-run double finished the Reds' scoring in the seventh. Brooks Lawrence (3-2) was the loser after winning three in a row.

The Pirates, shut out on three hits for six innings by Johnny Antonelli, put it away with three runs in the 12th. Gordon Jonas (1-2), fourth of six Giant pitchers, was the loser. Bennie Daniels, who lost his first decision as a starter Monday night, won this one in relief, although roughed up for two runs in the 12th on two singles and three errors. Two of the boots were by Bob Clemente, whose single proved the clincher for the Pirates.

Heavyweights Meet June 25

Johansson May Be First Real Test For Patterson

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's gift to pugilism, has two hands, a pretty fiancee, money in excavating machinery, a fishing boat and a mother who makes good Swedish meatballs.

But can he fight? That's the question everyone seems to be asking.

Johansson is an unmarked 202-pounder who says he fights best at 198 pounds. He is a stocky six-footer. His features resemble Terry Brennan, the unfrocked Notre Dame football coach, even to the dimple on his chin.

He seems modest but on occasion talks big. Last fall he said "nobody can take my right." And when he arrived here the last Monday in April for his June 25 Yankee Stadium title fight against heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson he said:

"I think I will beat him. I wouldn't be here if I didn't think so."

This is not the same Johansson who in the 1952 Olympics put up such a bad showing against Ed Sanders that he was disqualified in the heavyweight final. He got no second place medal. He had a hard time living down his Helsinki showing.

Johansson is 26 now and wizened in the ways of the ring. His professional record shows 21 bouts, 13 of which ended in knockouts, and he is unbeaten. Last year he knocked out Joe Erskine, Heinz Neuhaus and Eddie Machen.

Ingo used his left cautiously. It seemed, in the movies, he feared getting hit, for in jabbing he held his left out and stepped backward. But in close his overhand right sent a message. It put Machen down the first time it connected. Ingo floored the Californian again and when Machen refused to go down a third time, Johansson showed a killer instinct reminiscent of a Jack Dempsey. However, Machen is no Patterson.

Johansson seems to have a few things in his favor. One is his weight advantage. At 198 to Patterson's 183 those 16 pounds could be telling if Ingo can last more than a few rounds. The Swede has gained only two pounds in the last six years. He skips the rich food.

Ingo has also been hardened by miles and miles of roadwork and many rounds of sparring sessions. Edwin Ahlquist, his manager, says:

Fleischer saw the Swedish hope twice, and after the Machen bout named him "fighter of the year."

This, probably more than anything, forced Patterson to say he wanted Johansson. In January of 1958, Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, refused to accept Ingemar's challenge.

Maybe Cus knew what he was doing. Ever since Patterson won the crown by knocking out unpredictable Archie Moore in five rounds in Chicago in 1956, the manager who helped put Jim Norris and his International Boxing Club out of business, has come up with only hand-picked opponents for his fighter.

In three years, Patterson has stopped Tommy Jackson, who couldn't fight; Pete Rademacher, who never fought professionally, and Roy Harris, who showed only in Texas.

Then recently, in Indianapolis, it was Brian London, a Britisher who fought only a string of unknowns in England.

None of Patterson's four title aspirants has ever been regarded as "a worthy opponent." Maybe Johansson is. At least he has the record, and a good overhand right.

Cincy's Pitching Fails In 7-4 Loss To Cards

At the start of the season, it was mighty unlikely that the lean Texan would have four homers in the first month of play, or that his batting would be a useful .256.

His average last year was only .229 and he had one homer all season.

Yet it's also unlikely that McMillan—best shortstop in the National League last season—would commit two errors on the same play.

It happened Tuesday night. It was a minor by-product in the Reds' 7-4 trouncing at the hands of St. Louis' last-place Cardinals.

McMillan's trouble spot came in the sixth inning and St. Louis gained no runs from it. Most of the Cardinal scoring damage was already past.

Cardinal Hal White had sent a grounder to the Redleg shortstop, but he muffed it. And when McMillan finally picked up the ball, his throw was wild to first base for another error.

Tuesday night's defeat was a pitching nightmare for Cincinnati.

With Jim O'Toole pitching in the fifth, the Cards added insult to injury as Card pitcher Gary Blaylock, who got credit for the win, hit a homer with Alex Grammas aboard to increase the St. Louis lead to 7-0.

The Reds finally scored in the sixth inning. Two straight doubles by Jerry Lynch and Frank Robinson scored one. Gus Bell then looped a ball over short, and when Grammas misjudged it, Robinson scored, making the score 7-2.

The Redlegs scored two more in the seventh when Vada Pinson doubled home McMillan and Don Newcombe.

The Cardinals scored two runs in the first inning, one each in the second, third and fourth, and two in the fifth.

Brooks Lawrence was the loser.

Chuma Sets Strikeout Mark At West Virginia

MORGANTOWN (AP) — A new record was set by Pitcher Paul Chuma yesterday for West Virginia University despite its 6-3 loss to Pitt.

Chuma's seven strikeouts raised his total to 114 in 76 innings this season, or three more than the record set in 106 2-3 innings by Jim Heise in 1955.

The loss gave West Virginia a 15-8 showing to take into its game at Waynesburg tomorrow. On Saturday, it will play Penn State.

Fleischer saw the Swedish hope twice, and after the Machen bout named him "fighter of the year."

This, probably more than anything, forced Patterson to say he wanted Johansson. In January of 1958, Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, refused to accept Ingemar's challenge.

Maybe Cus knew what he was doing. Ever since Patterson won the crown by knocking out unpredictable Archie Moore in five rounds in Chicago in 1956, the manager who helped put Jim Norris and his International Boxing Club out of business, has come up with only hand-picked opponents for his fighter.

In three years, Patterson has stopped Tommy Jackson, who couldn't fight; Pete Rademacher, who never fought professionally, and Roy Harris, who showed only in Texas.

Then recently, in Indianapolis, it was Brian London, a Britisher who fought only a string of unknowns in England.

None of Patterson's four title aspirants has ever been regarded as "a worthy opponent." Maybe Johansson is. At least he has the record, and a good overhand right.

Cincy's Pitching Fails In 7-4 Loss To Cards

At the start of the season, it was mighty unlikely that the lean Texan would have four homers in the first month of play, or that his batting would be a useful .256.

His average last year was only .229 and he had one homer all season.

Yet it's also unlikely that McMillan—best shortstop in the National League last season—would commit two errors on the same play.

It happened Tuesday night. It was a minor by-product in the Reds' 7-4 trouncing at the hands of St. Louis' last-place Cardinals.

McMillan's trouble spot came in the sixth inning and St. Louis gained no runs from it. Most of the Cardinal scoring damage was already past.

Cardinal Hal White had sent a grounder to the Redleg shortstop, but he muffed it. And when McMillan finally picked up the ball, his throw was wild to first base for another error.

Tuesday night's defeat was a pitching nightmare for Cincinnati.

With Jim O'Toole pitching in the fifth, the Cards added insult to injury as Card pitcher Gary Blaylock, who got credit for the win, hit a homer with Alex Grammas aboard to increase the St. Louis lead to 7-0.

The Reds finally scored in the sixth inning. Two straight doubles by Jerry Lynch and Frank Robinson scored one. Gus Bell then looped a ball over short, and when Grammas misjudged it, Robinson scored, making the score 7-2.

The Redlegs scored two more in the seventh when Vada Pinson doubled home McMillan and Don Newcombe.

The Cardinals scored two runs in the first inning, one each in the second, third and fourth, and two in the fifth.

Brooks Lawrence was the loser.

Chuma Sets Strikeout Mark At West Virginia

MORGANTOWN (AP) — A new record was set by Pitcher Paul Chuma yesterday for West Virginia University despite its 6-3 loss to Pitt.

Chuma's seven strikeouts raised his total to 114 in 76 innings this season, or three more than the record set in 106 2-3 innings by Jim Heise in 1955.

The loss gave West Virginia a 15-8 showing to take into its game at Waynesburg tomorrow. On Saturday, it will play Penn State.

Williams Is Not Disappointed In First Performance

Ted Williams was not disappointed Tuesday night after going 0-for-4 in his first appearance of the 1959 season for the Boston Red Sox.

The 40-year-old defending American League batting champion, coming off a neck and shoulder ailment which had forced him out of action since March, said:

"I'm satisfied with my efforts for my first game back. I'm not tired. In fact I feel real good," he said after playing in the home forces' 4-3, 12-inning loss to Chicago which lasted 4 hours, 23 minutes.

"My problem was that I was hitting bad pitches," Ted added.

He struck out twice, popped up to the infield, drew an intentional walk and twice grounded out.

Radio System May Smooth Start Of 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — After losing nine cars in the last two 500-mile races before they had completed a single lap, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway will try to smooth out the May 30 start with a two-way radio system.

Speedway President Tony Hulman announced today that a radio transmitter and receiver in his pace car will keep him in touch with chief steward Harlan Fengler at the starting line.

Fengler, in turn, will be in telephone communication with eight observers around the 2½-mile track. It is impossible to see the entire track from any one spot.

Last year the first three cars in the lineup pulled out of the pits ahead of the pace car. Two extra laps were necessary before the lineup could be straightened up for the official start. Then driver Pat O'Connor was fatally injured in a 15-car pileup on the first lap.

This year 33 cars will be lined up on the track in 11 rows before their engines are started.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 8-12 degrees below normal. Normal high 69 north, 74 south. Normal low 48-51. Colder Thursday, continued quite cool through the weekend. Total rainfall one-tenth to one-fifth inch mostly as showers early Thursday.

Castleman Sparks Miami Team With All-Around Play

By The Associated Press

More and more, the story behind the Miami Marlins' rise to the top of the International League is infielder Foster Castelman.

The former Baltimore Orioles and New York Giants utilityman gave Miami its 19th victory Tuesday night with two spectacular fielding plays and drove in the winning run in the 10th inning as the Marlins defeated Columbus, 3-2.

Castleman still maintains his league batting leadership with a lefty .383 average. He has 44 hits and scored 23 runs in staying 29 points ahead of his nearest rival, Dave Pope of Toronto.

In other IL action, Toronto defeated Montreal 5-3 and Buffalo won over Rochester 5-0. Havana and Richmond were rained out.

Ex-Pro Tourney Director Sees Golf Going To Putts

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

"Unless the pro golfers secure more long, tight courses for their weekly events tournament golf is in danger of becoming a giant putting contest."

Those are the words of Howard Capps, head professional at the Desert Inn Country Club in Las Vegas. Howard usually knows whereof he speaks concerning golf scores.

The former PGA tournament bureau director and the man who helped get the annual $40,000 Tournament of Champions into existence points to some of the scores turned in along the winter trail.

For instance, Paul Harney shot a couple of 65s and two other below 71 rounds to win the Pensacola Open. Before that Gene Littler busted out with a 63 to take home first money at Phoenix, Ariz. Littler, three-time Tournament of Champion winner, also shot two 67s and a 71.

In the Phoenix tourney unheralded Jerry Magee, 25, of Canada also shot 65s, and many pros who finished out of the money turned up with rounds below 70.

At the 6,680-yard Thunderbird course, winner Arnold Palmer finished with a 62. Masters champ Art Wall shot 70, 69, 69 and 69 at Thunderbird yet finished 11 strokes back of the winner. He got $195 for his four-round effort.

At Tucson last February, Littler fired rounds of 65, 67, 68, 66 and it wasn't good enough to win. Marty Furgol had a 62 in this event and seven golfers shot 64s.

In the Texas Open at Brackenridge Park, where Al Brosch of Woodmere, N. Y., shot a record 60 off rubber-matted tees in 1951, Tom Nieporte had three rounds below 70 yet tied for second. Wes Ellis had a first round 66 and a fourth round 67.

HOWARD CAPPS
Seeks Long, Tight Courses.

"Short tournament courses which do not place a premium on shotmaking from tee to green will find more fine putters than swing stylists at the pay window on Sunday nights," says Capps.

"The PGA should make every effort to obtain the best playing test available in each area.

"The USGA always provides a great course, beautifully conditioned, and National Open champions are invariably players with strong, well-rounded games. I hope the PGA tour doesn't degenerate into a scrambler's paradise."

Capps refuses to get into the discussion of Calcutta pools, a form of wagering outlawed by the USGA, golf's governing body and sponsor of the National Open and nearly all national amateur golf tests.

The Calcutta pool at the recent Tournament of Champions hit $380,000. People from all walks of life—entertainers, bankers, industrialists and gamblers—put up sums in bidding for "their man," each seeking the jackpot.

However, in Nevada gambling is legal, be it on racing, golf or baseball. In fact, the gamblers in that state made Cleveland second choice at 5 to 1 to win the American League pennant. Seems they were better informed than most sports writers for the Indians got off winging this spring.

Capps believes golf is the toughest of all individual sports for one person to dominate the scene. He points to his last two tournaments. Of the 22 players who competed in the T of C in 1958 only 10 qualified for the 1959 test.

Amateurs are ineligible. The USGA, in effect, next January may vote to bar from its national open professionals who take part in Calcutta pools.

Thomas To Drop Out Of Picture Until Next Fall

BOSTON (AP) — John Thomas, the sensational 18-year-old high jumper who is recovering satisfactorily from a skin graft on his left foot, has withdrawn from Boston University until next fall when he also plans to resume competition. Thomas said Tuesday, he definitely is out of the National AAU meet June 19.

"The doctor won't say when I can get out of here," he said, "so I've decided to withdraw from school and start over again in the fall. I've missed too much to make up now."

FIGHT RESULTS

Williams Is Not Disappointed In First Performance

Ted Williams was not disappointed Tuesday night after going 0-for-4 in his first appearance of the 1959 season for the Boston Red Sox.

The 40-year-old defending American League batting champion, coming off a neck and shoulder ailment which had forced him out of action since March, said:

"I'm satisfied with my efforts for my first game back. I'm not tired. In fact I feel real good," he said after playing in the home forces' 4-3, 12-inning loss to Chicago which lasted 4 hours, 23 minutes.

"My problem was that I was hitting bad pitches," Ted added.

He struck out twice, popped up to the infield, drew an intentional walk and twice grounded out.

Points To Short Courses

Ex-Pro Tourney Director Sees Golf Going To Putts

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

"Unless the pro golfers secure more long, tight courses for their weekly events tournament golf is in danger of becoming a giant putting contest."

Those are the words of Howard Capps, head professional at the Desert Inn Country Club in Las Vegas. Howard usually knows whereof he speaks concerning golf scores.

The former PGA tournament bureau director and the man who helped get the annual $40,000 Tournament of Champions into existence points to some of the scores turned in along the winter trail.

For instance, Paul Harney shot a couple of 65s and two other below 71 rounds to win the Pensacola Open. Before that Gene Littler busted out with a 63 to take home first money at Phoenix, Ariz. Littler, three-time Tournament of Champion winner, also shot two 67s and a 71.

In the Phoenix tourney unheralded Jerry Magee, 25, of Canada also shot 65s, and many pros who finished out of the money turned up with rounds below 70.

At the 6,680-yard Thunderbird course, winner Arnold Palmer finished with a 62. Masters champ Art Wall shot 70, 69, 69 and 69 at Thunderbird yet finished 11 strokes back of the winner. He got $195 for his four-round effort.

At Tucson last February, Littler fired rounds of 65, 67, 68, 66 and it wasn't good enough to win. Marty Furgol had a 62 in this event and seven golfers shot 64s.

In the Texas Open at Brackenridge Park, where Al Brosch of Woodmere, N. Y., shot a record 60 off rubber-matted tees in 1951, Tom Nieporte had three rounds below 70 yet tied for second. Wes Ellis had a first round 66 and a fourth round 67.

HOWARD CAPPS
Seeks Long, Tight Courses.

"Short tournament courses which do not place a premium on shotmaking from tee to green will find more fine putters than swing stylists at the pay window on Sunday nights," says Capps.

"The PGA should make every effort to obtain the best playing test available in each area.

"The USGA always provides a great course, beautifully conditioned, and National Open champions are invariably players with strong, well-rounded games. I hope the PGA tour doesn't degenerate into a scrambler's paradise."

Capps refuses to get into the discussion of Calcutta pools, a form of wagering outlawed by the USGA, golf's governing body and sponsor of the National Open and nearly all national amateur golf tests.

The Calcutta pool at the recent Tournament of Champions hit $380,000. People from all walks of life—entertainers, bankers, industrialists and gamblers—put up sums in bidding for "their man," each seeking the jackpot.

However, in Nevada gambling is legal, be it on racing, golf or baseball. In fact, the gamblers in that state made Cleveland second choice at 5 to 1 to win the American League pennant. Seems they were better informed than most sports writers for the Indians got off winging this spring.

Capps believes golf is the toughest of all individual sports for one person to dominate the scene. He points to his last two tournaments. Of the 22 players who competed in the T of C in 1958 only 10 qualified for the 1959 test.

Amateurs are ineligible. The USGA, in effect, next January may vote to bar from its national open professionals who take part in Calcutta pools.

Thomas To Drop Out Of Picture Until Next Fall

BOSTON (AP) — John Thomas, the sensational 18-year-old high jumper who is recovering satisfactorily from a skin graft on his left foot, has withdrawn from Boston University until next fall when he also plans to resume competition. Thomas said Tuesday, he definitely is out of the National AAU meet June 19.

"The doctor won't say when I can get out of here," he said, "so I've decided to withdraw from school and start over again in the fall. I've missed too much to make up now."

Radio System May Smooth Start Of 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — After losing nine cars in the last two 500-mile races before they had completed a single lap, the Indianapolis Motor Speedway will try to smooth out the May 30 start with a two-way radio system.

Speedway President Tony Hulman announced today that a radio transmitter and receiver in his pace car will keep him in touch with chief steward Harlan Fengler at the starting line.

Fengler, in turn, will be in telephone communication with eight observers around the 2½-mile track. It is impossible to see the entire track from any one spot.

Last year the first three cars in the lineup pulled out of the pits ahead of the pace car. Two extra laps were necessary before the lineup could be straightened up for the official start. Then driver Pat O'Connor was fatally injured in a 15-car pileup on the first lap.

This year 33 cars will be lined up on the track in 11 rows before their engines are started.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 8-12 degrees below normal. Normal high 69 north, 74 south. Normal low 48-51. Colder Thursday, continued quite cool through the weekend. Total rainfall one-tenth to one-fifth inch mostly as showers early Thursday.

Castleman Sparks Miami Team With All-Around Play

By The Associated Press

More and more, the story behind the Miami Marlins' rise to the top of the International League is infielder Foster Castelman.

The former Baltimore Orioles and New York Giants utilityman gave Miami its 19th victory Tuesday night with two spectacular fielding plays and drove in the winning run in the 10th inning as the Marlins defeated Columbus, 3-2.

Castleman still maintains his league batting leadership with a lefty .383 average. He has 44 hits and scored 23 runs in staying 29 points ahead of his nearest rival, Dave Pope of Toronto.

In other IL action, Toronto defeated Montreal 5-3 and Buffalo won over Rochester 5-0. Havana and Richmond were rained out.

CINCINNATI (AP)—A lightning bolt struck a rooftip ventpipe and followed it inside Westwood-Cheviot Church of Christ Tuesday, starting a fire that caused an estimated $35,000 damage.

Interleague Game Draws Watchful Eye

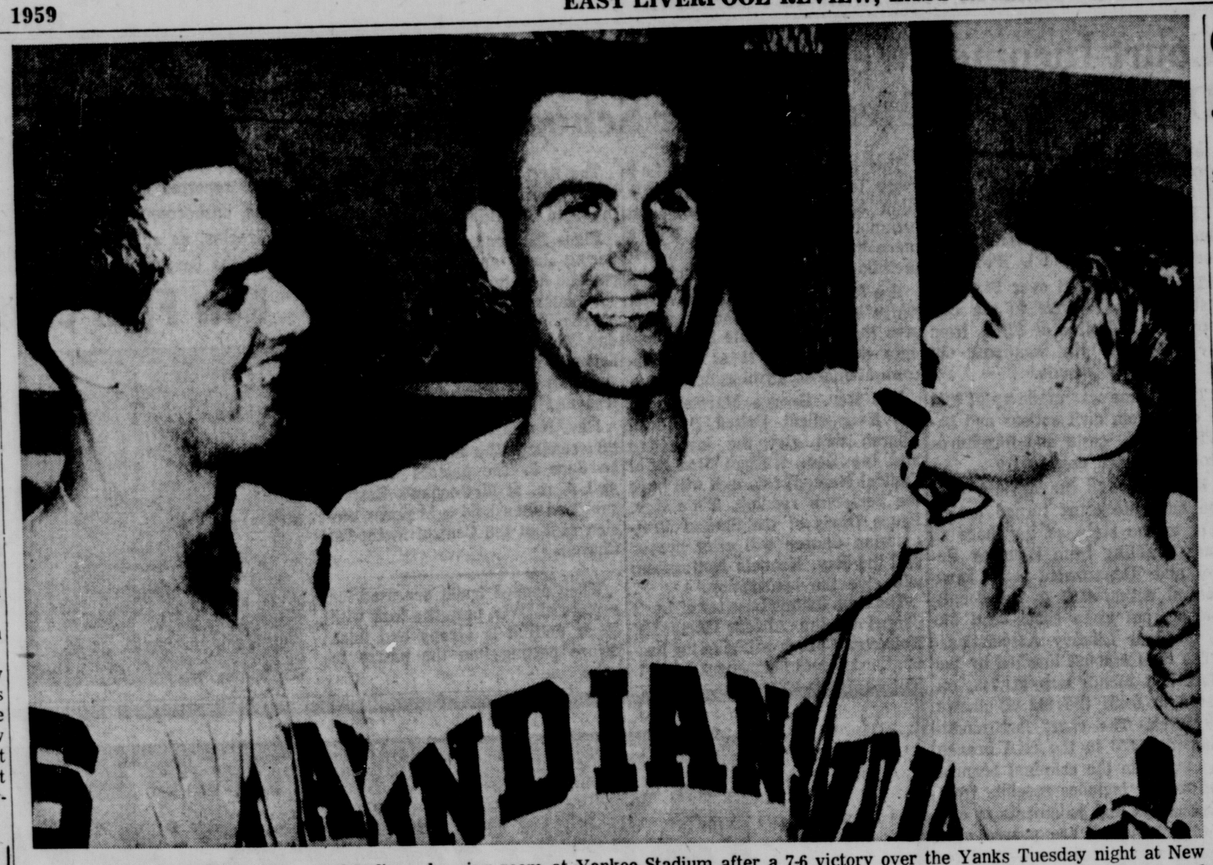
When Austin of the Texas League defeated Nuevo Laredo of the Mexican League 8-2, it marked the first time teams of two leagues competed in a game which counts in the standings.

Baseball leaders hope the interleague play will inaugurate increased attendance and interest in the minor leagues.

Pre-game ceremonies were held in Spanish and English before a near-capacity crowd of more than 5,000.

Before the game Frick told a newsman:

"This game is being watched by the State Department as well as the baseball world. A lot of people are interested in this to see how it works out. When people meet people it's so much more efficient than when governments meet governments."



WHOOPING it up in the Cleveland Indians dressing room at Yankee Stadium after a 7-6 victory over the Yanks Tuesday night at New York are, left-to-right, Rocky Colavito, who got four hits, including a home run; Jim Perry, relief pitcher who stopped the Yanks and Woody Held, who also homered. Colorado State Beauty Queen Jailed For Armed Robberies

LITTLETON, Colo. (AP) — A 20-year-old girl was in a jail cell today, only 10 months after she was crowned a state beauty queen.

Dixie Ann Gottfried has signed statements admitting two armed robberies last Monday, according to sheriff's investigator William Maraggos. No charges have been filed.

"All I wanted was $50 for a room and some new clothes and a few dollars to get a new start," said the 5-foot-11, 150-pound beauty. "I was flat broke."

Mrs. Gottfried won the Miss Colorado Jaycee title last July, as blonde Dixie Ann Dickes of Pueblo, Colo.

When two patrolmen arrested her late Monday night at nearby Aurora, her hair was long, unkempt and dyed black. She was dressed in slacks and a rough shirt.

Records at her home town of Pueblo show she was fined $125 last November for fighting and pouring beer on two policemen who attempted to arrest her in a tavern.

Mrs. Gottfried was arrested less than 15 minutes after an Aurora drugstore was robbed at gunpoint of $131 and narcotics.

She admitted she had robbed a Denver hotel early Monday of $17.

The lithe beauty said her husband, William D. Gottfried, 23, is in the Illinois Prison for the Criminally Insane. He was convicted of kidnaping a policeman, Maraggos said.

"He'd just raise cain if he knew about this," she said.

Wellsville Man Fined On Reduced Charges

Nick Larson, 502 Wells Ave., Wellsville, was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail Monday by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

The jail sentence was suspended on condition he is of good behavior and pays court costs.

He was indicted by the April Grand Jury for shooting with intent to wound but he was permitted to plead guilty to the lesser charge of pointing and discharging firearms.

Ohio Girl's Fiance Killed In Robbery Bid

HUNTINGTON PARK, Calif. (AP)—Miss Mary Brown of Portsmouth, Ohio, was en route here for a wedding but probably will wind up attending a funeral — her fiance's. Robert E. Carraway, 29, the man she was to marry soon, was shot and killed Tuesday in his apartment here during a robbery attempt.

Police indicated the two robbers apparently were after receipts which Carraway, a bartender, customarily took with him from the cafe where he worked. The shooting happened just a few hours before Miss Brown was due here from Portsmouth.

Blast On Sun Kicks Up Magnetic Storm

SACRAMENTO PEAK OBSERVATORY, N. M. (AP) — An explosion on the sun, described as one of the strongest radio flares ever recorded, kicked up a magnetic storm in the earth's atmosphere Sunday.

Now it is dying out. Astronomers say they expect the last of it Thursday, along with the last of accompanying radio trouble.

Harry Ramsey, chief observer at this mountain top observatory in south central New Mexico, said, "The solar flare was about 100,000 miles in length and 50,000 miles wide."

Sheep Dipping Signup Will End By May 20

LISBON — W. E. Hughes of Harrod, who has dipped sheep for six years in Columbiana County, will be providing the service again this year, according to Albert Pugh, county extension agent in agriculture.

All county sheepmen who wish to participate in the program June 8-13 must contact the Agriculture Extension Office by May 20.

Toxaphene will be used, as recommended by the state. It requires only 30 seconds of immersion to kill all external parasites. Hughes is an approved dipper and will issue certificates when the sheep are dipped at the farm. Sheep sold through local livestock markets and returned to a farm are required by state law to be dipped within 60 days of sale, Pugh said.

The county sheep committee has approved Hughes as a dipper again this year.

Recognition was given by Mrs. Wilda Carroll.

New Army Grid Coach Has A Lot On His Side

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

The bespectacled 34-year-old former West Point halfback — he scored six touchdowns for the great 1944 team that featured Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard—has so many things in his favor that he most certainly will have a winning team his first year as head coach of the Black Knights.

He is similar to Blaik, his former boss, in many respects. Both Blaik and Hall were the outstanding athletes of their respective graduating classes, Blaik in 1920 and Hall 25 years later. Both were awarded the Army Athletic Assn. trophy. In 1920 it was known as the saber.

"DALE IS the best man West Point could have picked," says Blaik. "He has a first rate football mind."

Army had won only one of nine games the year before Blaik assumed coaching command. Hall falls heir to 13 lettermen from a 25-letterman team that went unbeaten. Blaik's first Army team won 5, lost 3 and tied 1. Hall's first team figures to do much better even with a schedule that features such strong foes as Oklahoma, Air Force Academy and Navy.

A two - hour practice session was something to see, even while All-America halfback Bob Anderson was across the street pitching well in a losing game against George Case's Rutgers nine.

Every football player in uniform, even the walking injured in sweat suits, did a job. Only Brig. Gen. Gerald A. Counts, academy dean, and the brass under him, stood around. Hall had his assistants barking commands. Loudest orders were coming from Illinois' former Big Ten wrestling champion, Chuck Gottfried. He could be heard above the crash of helmets when end Bill Carpenter, team captain, went plowing into a defender.

MOST OF the drills end in a brisk scrimmage or with a punting drill from the goal line. Hall would step up closer and take charge when action simulated game conditions. It was about the way Red Blaik ran things for 18 seasons, six of them unbeaten.

"I don't plan to change a single thing," says Hall. "After all, the system has been so successful. I don't believe in making a change just for the sake of making a change."

About the only thing Hall has changed is his residence. He now lives with his wife Laura and three daughters in the 14 - room red brick Colonial home once occupied by Red Blaik.

Hall, like Blaik, is a man of patience. He comes up to his job well schooled. He played for Blaik, coached under him after brief coaching assignments at Purdue, New Hampshire and Florida.

That Hall knows his football is best explained by what he did for Army's unbeaten 1958 team. He scouted Navy. He handled the telephone high up in Municipal Stadium, Philadelphia, when Navy rocked Army back on its heels with a quick score after Captain Pete Dawkins fumbled the Navy kickoff.

Blaik grabbed the phone and said:

"What the hell are they doing?"

Europeans In Algiers Boycott Army Parade

Most of the city's European population stayed home to demonstrate their growing discontent with De Gaulle's Algerian policy.

The army funneled thousands of Moslems into the vast forum square and by loudspeaker led them in cheers of "Algeria is French" but most of the Europeans to be seen were territorial guards, in civilian dress, who were mustered into active service for the affair.

New Army Grid Coach Has A Lot On His Side

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

The bespectacled 34-year-old former West Point halfback — he scored six touchdowns for the great 1944 team that featured Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard—has so many things in his favor that he most certainly will have a winning team his first year as head coach of the Black Knights.

He is similar to Blaik, his former boss, in many respects. Both Blaik and Hall were the outstanding athletes of their respective graduating classes, Blaik in 1920 and Hall 25 years later. Both were awarded the Army Athletic Assn. trophy. In 1920 it was known as the saber.

"DALE IS the best man West Point could have picked," says Blaik. "He has a first rate football mind."

Army had won only one of nine games the year before Blaik assumed coaching command. Hall falls heir to 13 lettermen from a 25-letterman team that went unbeaten. Blaik's first Army team won 5, lost 3 and tied 1. Hall's first team figures to do much better even with a schedule that features such strong foes as Oklahoma, Air Force Academy and Navy.

A two-hour practice session was something to see, even while All-America halfback Bob Anderson was across the street pitching well in a losing game against George Case's Rutgers nine.

Every football player in uniform, even the walking injured in sweat suits, did a job. Only Brig. Gen. Gerald A. Counts, academy dean, and the brass under him, stood around. Hall had his assistants barking commands. Loudest orders were coming from Illinois' former Big Ten wrestling champion, Chuck Gottfried. He could be heard above the crash of helmets when end Bill Carpenter, team captain, went plowing into a defender.

MOST OF the drills end in a brisk scrimmage or with a punting drill from the goal line. Hall would step up closer and take charge when action simulated game conditions. It was about the way Red Blaik ran things for 18 seasons, six of them unbeaten.

"I don't plan to change a single thing," says Hall. "After all, the system has been so successful. I don't believe in making a change just for the sake of making a change."

About the only thing Hall has changed is his residence. He now lives with his wife Laura and three daughters in the 14-room red brick Colonial home once occupied by Red Blaik.

Hall, like Blaik, is a man of patience. He comes up to his job well schooled. He played for Blaik, coached under him after brief coaching assignments at Purdue, New Hampshire and Florida.

That Hall knows his football is best explained by what he did for Army's unbeaten 1958 team. He scouted Navy. He handled the telephone high up in Municipal Stadium, Philadelphia, when Navy rocked Army back on its heels with a quick score after Captain Pete Dawkins fumbled the Navy kickoff.

Blaik grabbed the phone and said:

"What the hell are they doing?"

Europeans In Algiers Boycott Army Parade

Most of the city's European population stayed home to demonstrate their growing discontent with De Gaulle's Algerian policy.

The army funneled thousands of Moslems into the vast forum square and by loudspeaker led them in cheers of "Algeria is French" but most of the Europeans to be seen were territorial guards, in civilian dress, who were mustered into active service for the affair.

Last night's program also included a reading, "The Dairy of A Baby-Sitter" and takeoffs on the television panel show "Tell The Truth".

Attendance At Library Art Show Totals 500

The show, which opened Sunday, will run through May 24. Visitors may vote for a popular choice in the main lobby, where daily registration is being handled.

Lorre Off Critical List In Heart Attack

Court Income Drops $2,335

Municipal Court's overall income hit $5,246 in April, a drop of $2,335 from the near-record of $7,581 set in March, it was shown today in the monthly report of Clerk Harold L. Powell.

The court turned over $4,679 of last month's revenue to the city treasury, a decline of $2,121 from the $6,800 the city was paid out of the March income.

The income was made up of $808 in costs from civil actions and $3,871 in fines, costs and forfeitures from criminal cases.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $274 to the state as its share of fines resulting from Highway Patrol and Department of Liquor Control cases, $217 to the county —also from state cases—and $75 to the Law Library Association.

The total amount handled by the court last month was $11,745, off just $748 from the $12,493 shown in March. The court last month handled $6,865 in the civil branch and $4,880 in the criminal branch. The money includes receipts from trusteeships and judgments in civil actions—which are passed onto plaintiffs and creditors — and refunded bonds in civil cases.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I've been married 16 years and we have four nice children. I don't have to tell you how fast kids go through shoes, winter coats and cough medicine.

As for myself, I haven't had a new dress in three years. I'm handy with the sewing machine and make things over. I change collars and cuffs and use every trick in the book to look presentable.

I'm writing about my husband. I know I'll never be able to change him — I just want to let off some steam. He's a tool and die worker, makes good money and thank God he's never been out of work. The trouble is, Ann, he has always taken 25 per cent of the pay check to spend on himself "as he sees fit."

Last week was the last straw. He spent $180 cash on fishing equipment and bought a new outboard motor on credit. This really burned me up. What in the world can such a man be thinking about? — RUTH.

Dear Ruth: HIMSELF.

Barnum Again

Dear Ann Landers: I dated a very attractive girl for more than a year. I happen to be the generous kind who likes to buy gifts. The last gift I bought for her was an expensive piece of furniture. I'll be paying for the darned thing forever.

Now that we've broken up I'd like to have that gift back. She's only 19 but don't you think her family should have the decency to see that the gift is returned? I sure hate to ask for it but I don't like paying on a dead horse either. What do you think of these "collectors"? — DISENCHANTED.

Dear Disenchanted: So long as there are chumps like you around, there'll always be "collectors." Barnum was right. There's one born every minute—and two to take 'im.

The gift is hers. You gave it to her in good faith. She's entitled to keep it.

Cousins Buzzin'

Dear Ann: My fiance and I plan to be married within the year. I'm having a real problem with the wedding plans.

There are 27 adults on his side of the family that must be invited. On my side, there are about 100. He feels we should invite all his little cousins. I don't want anyone there under 16 years of age.

He says if his cousins aren't included, their parents won't attend. I say this is old-country stuff. He's 23 and I'm 22 so both of us are old enough to make a mature decision.

I was always under the impression that the bride and her family set the plans for the wedding since they pay for it and the groom should not interfere. Am I right? Please tell me what to do about this little cousin problem. — SNAG NO. 1.

Dear Snag: True, the bride and her family set the plans but since the bride has to live with the groom after the guests have gone home, it helps if they're on speaking terms.

I suggest you invite to the wedding all the "little cousins" on both sides, 10 years of age and up, but not to the reception. "Watchers" should be strategically placed in the church, and at first sign of disturbance, the child or children should be removed. This ought to satisfy everyone.

Confidentially

To Tired But Satisfied: You're doing a great job. Congratulations. I loved your letter — particularly the line, "Blessed are they with holes in their heads, for they shall be known as Den Mothers."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Fred Astaire Wants To Return An 'Emmy'

But a spokesman for the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences says the award was won fairly by Astaire—and it is his.

Astaire said through a spokesman he wanted to return the award because of confusion over the "best actor" category. Some critics, including Ed Sullivan, contend the Emmy should have gone for a dramatic instead of a dancing performance.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I've been married 16 years and we have four nice children. I don't have to tell you how fast kids go through shoes, winter coats and cough medicine.

As for myself, I haven't had a new dress in three years. I'm handy with the sewing machine and make things over. I change collars and cuffs and use every trick in the book to look presentable.

I'm writing about my husband. I know I'll never be able to change him — I just want to let off some steam. He's a tool and die worker, makes good money and thank God he's never been out of work. The trouble is, Ann, he has always taken 25 per cent of the pay check to spend on himself "as he sees fit."

Last week was the last straw. He spent $180 cash on fishing equipment and bought a new outboard motor on credit. This really burned me up. What in the world can such a man be thinking about? — RUTH.

Dear Ruth: HIMSELF.

Barnum Again

Dear Ann Landers: I dated a very attractive girl for more than a year. I happen to be the generous kind who likes to buy gifts. The last gift I bought for her was an expensive piece of furniture. I'll be paying for the darned thing forever.

Now that we've broken up I'd like to have that gift back. She's only 19 but don't you think her family should have the decency to see that the gift is returned? I sure hate to ask for it but I don't like paying on a dead horse either. What do you think of these "collectors"? — DISENCHANTED.

Dear Disenchanted: So long as there are chumps like you around, there'll always be "collectors." Barnum was right. There's one born every minute—and two to take 'im.

The gift is hers. You gave it to her in good faith. She's entitled to keep it.

Cousins Buzzin'

Dear Ann: My fiance and I plan to be married within the year. I'm having a real problem with the wedding plans.

There are 27 adults on his side of the family that must be invited. On my side, there are about 100. He feels we should invite all his little cousins. I don't want anyone there under 16 years of age.

He says if his cousins aren't included, their parents won't attend. I say this is old-country stuff. He's 23 and I'm 22 so both of us are old enough to make a mature decision.

I was always under the impression that the bride and her family set the plans for the wedding since they pay for it and the groom should not interfere. Am I right? Please tell me what to do about this little cousin problem. — SNAG NO. 1.

Dear Snag: True, the bride and her family set the plans but since the bride has to live with the groom after the guests have gone home, it helps if they're on speaking terms.

I suggest you invite to the wedding all the "little cousins" on both sides, 10 years of age and up, but not to the reception. "Watchers" should be strategically placed in the church, and at first sign of disturbance, the child or children should be removed. This ought to satisfy everyone.

Confidentially

To Tired But Satisfied: You're doing a great job. Congratulations. I loved your letter — particularly the line, "Blessed are they with holes in their heads, for they shall be known as Den Mothers."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Speedier Air Schedules Seen With New Jet Craft

"The new jet transports soon to be placed in service by the nation's airlines will carry passengers twice as high, twice as fast and twice as comfortable," B. J. Mazur, district cargo sales manager of Capital Airlines, told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

The Pittsburgh airlines official, a graduate of Penn State University, spoke on "The Civil Jet Age" before 70 Rotarians and guests in the Travelers Hotel.

Capital Airlines has ordered 15 of the Convair 880 jets which cost $5 to $6 million each and will speed up passenger service and transportation of both cargo and mail.

"The 600-mile-per-hour craft will open up new markets in industry and will serve to work the handle of the pump of the nation's economy," he continued.

Passengers will fly in noiseless, luxurious comfort about eight miles high in the jet craft, Mazur said, riding above most of the inclement weather which sometimes makes airline travel hazardous.

Some of the jets will carry as many as 170 passengers, with the smallest plane 124 feet long and 135 feet from wing tip to wing tip—farther than the distance of the first air flight by the Wright brothers, he said.

The new jet craft will use huge quantities of fuel—2,000 gallons of a kerosene mixture per hour—but new developments in engine production have produced a jet engine that weighs about the same as the wartime piston-driven engines, he continued.

Besides carrying a high number of passengers, the jets will be able to transport as much as 17,000 pounds of freight.

Mazur also stressed the need for an adequate fare level. "Since 1938, the airlines have increased their average passenger revenue by only 1.9 per cent while the consumer price index has gone up many times that amount," he declared.

"Clearly," he commented," the airlines are being hard put to purchase and operate 1958 aircraft with 1938 fares." Mazur said that such a "profit squeeze" could be disastrous.

Turning to competition in the airlines industry, Mazur said that "the long-enjoyed superiority of the U. S. is now being threatened by the Russians who have initiated jet travel with their "Aeroflot."

The Russians have been operating a jet transport for two years and by the end of the year, the Aeroflot will have about 100 first-line turbine-powered civil aircraft, the airlines official said.

2 Ohio Power Firms Hit Regulation Order

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Utilities Commission order regulating natural gas operations is under fire from two Ohio electric companies.

Ohio Edison and Ohio Power companies say the order has discriminatory provisions.

The provisions are that a standby heating system must be installed in commercial buildings which use a large amount of gas heat. The standby system must use fuel other than natural gas.

But if the building has a gas air-conditioning system, the provisions say the standby heating system need not be installed.

Recommendation Due On Crossing Signals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Examiner Robert T. Fitzsimons of the Utilities Commission is preparing his recommendation on the Stark County commissioners' request for flasher lights at the Harrisburg-Paris road crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Fitzsimons heard the case here Tuesday. The crossing is southwest of Alliance, and part of the complaint is that boxcars on a storage track obscure the view of the crossing. The railroad says the parked boxcars have been removed.

Three-Car Collision Kills West Virginian

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A three-car collision was fatal Tuesday to Basil Lee Warner, 35, Rt. 5, Sissonville, W. Va.

Mavromatis and his father-in-law, Dan Gratovich, 51, were admitted to a Charleston hospital. Mavromatis' son, James, 7, and Gratovich's son, Mike, 18, were treated and released. The accident happened on U. S. 21, eight miles north of here.

2 Who Robbed Bank Object Of FBI Hunt

WEST JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) —Two robbers who fled with about $3,000 from the Central National Bank here are the object of an FBI search today.

Other law enforcement agencies throughout Ohio also are seeking the two men who staged Tuesday's robbery—a repeat performance of a 1954 holdup at the bank in which $11,000 was taken and the two robbers never were caught.

Salineville PTA Plans Installation Thursday

SALINEVILLE — Mrs. Joseph Feth, president, and other new officers will be installed at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at 8 at the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Elmer James of Alliance, East District director of the Ohio PTA Congress, will seat the officers. Mrs. Barbara Bettis will sing two solos. Lunch will be served by the eighth grade mothers.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Shapes Arms And Thighs

With summer almost here, the two problem measurements appear to be thighs and upper arms. One young woman writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"Most of my extra weight is on the upper thighs and upper arms. Why can exercise help me to slim down these two spots?"

Within reasonable limits, exercise can work wonders, but the limits are set by one's inherited frame. We inherit our body build. Whether the tendency is toward slender or stocky thighs depends on the limbs of the family tree. Also, we tend to store any excess fat in certain areas, depending on our build. However, only when there are excess calories can fat be deposited in these susceptible areas.

Now about exercise: If you lead a sedentary life, the thighs are one logical spot for weight to settle, for they provide an undisturbed parking place.

THE THING to do is to disturb it! Specific exercise helps in two ways — it stimulates the circulation in the fat prone places and improves contours by restoring tone to flabby muscles.

Movement: Raise left leg about 8 inches in air and make wide circles, circling six times in one direction and six in the other. If you will pull toes toward instep, the inner thigh muscles take more of the action. Change sides and circle with the right leg.

Upper arms are in a class by themselves, so to speak. Anyone's arms can become flabby! Of course, when excess weight is piled on, this added weight causes the muscles on the backs of the upper arms to sag sadly. The size of the upper arms seems to be correlated with weight and activity.

IT TAKES A definite exercise action to reach these triceps muscles. The rule is to put force behind a punch, with arms held out at shoulder level. If your young son has a punching bag, punch away at that.

Improvise by suspending a firm sofa pillow in a doorway and thrust forward vigorously with alternate fists. This will definitely tone the triceps. Experiment and see for yourself. As you thrust with one arm, with the other hand feel what is happening in the sagging area.

Any exercise is helpful. But to tone certain muscles, the exercise action must be directed through that exact spot.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Child's Insomnia No Reason For Concern

Now and then a mother writes of a child who lies awake for hours at bedtime. The child may not get up and walk about. He simply lies there awake. A New Jersey mother writes of her daughter, seven: "When she two, we took her on a vacation to a lake resort. Our house was surrounded by trees and woods and it seemed that every night when she was in her room, she imagined the 'wolf' coming out of the wood and into her bedroom. "Ever since that vacation she has had a terrible time getting to sleep. Sometimes she is in bed anywhere from one to three hours before she finally falls asleep. She just lies in bed, with out disturbing us or fussing one bit, but just lies quietly. It just about drives me insane.

By Garry Meyers

"I'm afraid there have been nights when I have scolded her terribly and even spanked her for not going to sleep."

—:—

TWO YEARS ago, when this mother began working, the girl began bedwetting.

"Lately she has improved in this respect. Sometimes she may go a whole week dry at night."

My reply in part:

Bedwetting may wholly cease if you evince no concern about it. Assure the child she need feel no shame or worry about it. Using a rubber sheet on her bed might add to her security.

You expressed anxiety over this child's lying awake.

Efforts to force her to go to sleep could be the chief cause of her staying awake so long at bedtime. I just can't understand why you should be vexed over her insomnia. She certainly doesn't stay awake deliberately.

Just imagine yourself in this child's place. Suppose someone scolded or punished you when you couldn't go to sleep. Do you suppose such treatment would help you go to sleep promptly?

SHE MAY still have some fears or worries. Limit or forbid her exposure to violent programs on the air. Let her have her door ajar with a dim light on inside.

Look into her day-to-day experiences. Try to win her affection and companionship, hoping she will freely talk to you about her worries. Do your best to help her have normal fun with other children of her age.

My bulletins, "Sleep Problems With Children" and "Psychology Applied to Bedwetting," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Fairfield County Road May Be State Highway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fairfield County Road 105, which extends south from U. S. 33 in Lancaster to the grounds of Boys' Industrial School, will become a state route if a Highway Department plan is approved.

The department has arranged a May 22 hearing on the proposal at Lancaster. The five - mile road would become Ohio 793 if the proposal receives public support and the highway director's okay.

Speedier Air Schedules Seen With New Jet Craft

"The new jet transports soon to be placed in service by the nation's airlines will carry passengers twice as high, twice as fast and twice as comfortable," B. J. Mazur, district cargo sales manager of Capital Airlines, told the Rotary Club Tuesday.

The Pittsburgh airlines official, a graduate of Penn State University, spoke on "The Civil Jet Age" before 70 Rotarians and guests in the Travelers Hotel.

Capital Airlines has ordered 15 of the Convair 880 jets which cost $5 to $6 million each and will speed up passenger service and transportation of both cargo and mail.

"The 600-mile-per-hour craft will open up new markets in industry and will serve to work the handle of the pump of the nation's economy," he continued.

Passengers will fly in noiseless, luxurious comfort about eight miles high in the jet craft, Mazur said, riding above most of the inclement weather which sometimes makes airline travel hazardous.

Some of the jets will carry as many as 170 passengers, with the smallest plane 124 feet long and 135 feet from wing tip to wing tip—farther than the distance of the first air flight by the Wright brothers, he said.

The new jet craft will use huge quantities of fuel—2,000 gallons of a kerosene mixture per hour—but new developments in engine production have produced a jet engine that weighs about the same as the wartime piston-driven engines, he continued.

Besides carrying a high number of passengers, the jets will be able to transport as much as 17,000 pounds of freight.

Mazur also stressed the need for an adequate fare level. "Since 1938, the airlines have increased their average passenger revenue by only 1.9 per cent while the consumer price index has gone up many times that amount," he declared.

"Clearly," he commented," the airlines are being hard put to purchase and operate 1958 aircraft with 1938 fares." Mazur said that such a "profit squeeze" could be disastrous.

Turning to competition in the airlines industry, Mazur said that "the long-enjoyed superiority of the U. S. is now being threatened by the Russians who have initiated jet travel with their "Aeroflot."

The Russians have been operating a jet transport for two years and by the end of the year, the Aeroflot will have about 100 first-line turbine-powered civil aircraft, the airlines official said.

Mazur distributed illustrated pamphlets to Rotarians on Capital Airlines' future jet craft. Robert Beatty was program chairman.

2 Ohio Power Firms Hit Regulation Order

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Utilities Commission order regulating natural gas operations is under fire from two Ohio electric companies.

Ohio Edison and Ohio Power companies say the order has discriminatory provisions.

The provisions are that a standby heating system must be installed in commercial buildings which use a large amount of gas heat. The standby system must use fuel other than natural gas.

But if the building has a gas air-conditioning system, the provisions say the standby heating system need not be installed.

Recommendation Due On Crossing Signals

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Examiner Robert T. Fitzsimons of the Utilities Commission is preparing his recommendation on the Stark County commissioners' request for flasher lights at the Harrisburg-Paris road crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Fitzsimons heard the case here Tuesday. The crossing is southwest of Alliance, and part of the complaint is that boxcars on a storage track obscure the view of the crossing. The railroad says the parked boxcars have been removed.

Three-Car Collision Kills West Virginian

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A three-car collision was fatal Tuesday to Basil Lee Warner, 35, Rt. 5, Sissonville, W. Va.

Police said Warner's car sideswiped one auto and then collided with a car driven by George Mavromatis, 39, a Steubenville, Ohio, police captain.

Mavromatis and his father-in-law, Dan Gratovich, 51, were admitted to a Charleston hospital. Mavromatis' son, James, 7, and Gratovich's son, Mike, 18, were treated and released. The accident happened on U. S. 21, eight miles north of here.

2 Who Robbed Bank Object Of FBI Hunt

WEST JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) —Two robbers who fled with about $3,000 from the Central National Bank here are the object of an FBI search today.

Other law enforcement agencies throughout Ohio also are seeking the two men who staged Tuesday's robbery—a repeat performance of a 1954 holdup at the bank in which $11,000 was taken and the two robbers never were caught.

Salineville PTA Plans Installation Thursday

SALINEVILLE — Mrs. Joseph Feth, president, and other new officers will be installed at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at 8 at the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Elmer James of Alliance, East District director of the Ohio PTA Congress, will seat the officers. Mrs. Barbara Bettis will sing two solos. Lunch will be served by the eighth grade mothers.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Shapes Arms And Thighs

With summer almost here, the two problem measurements appear to be thighs and upper arms. One young woman writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"Most of my extra weight is on the upper thighs and upper arms. Why can exercise help me to slim down these two spots?"

Within reasonable limits, exercise can work wonders, but the limits are set by one's inherited frame. We inherit our body build. Whether the tendency is toward slender or stocky thighs depends on the limbs of the family tree. Also, we tend to store any excess fat in certain areas, depending on our build. However, only when there are excess calories can fat be deposited in these susceptible areas.

Now about exercise: If you lead a sedentary life, the thighs are one logical spot for weight to settle, for they provide an undisturbed parking place.

THE THING to do is to disturb it! Specific exercise helps in two ways — it stimulates the circulation in the fat prone places and improves contours by restoring tone to flabby muscles.

Movement: Raise left leg about 8 inches in air and make wide circles, circling six times in one direction and six in the other. If you will pull toes toward instep, the inner thigh muscles take more of the action. Change sides and circle with the right leg.

Position: Same as agove, but have raised leg resting on small footstool.

Movement: Slowly lift lower leg up to meet top leg. That exercise is definitely toning.

Upper arms are in a class by themselves, so to speak. Anyone's arms can become flabby! Of course, when excess weight is piled on, this added weight causes the muscles on the backs of the upper arms to sag sadly. The size of the upper arms seems to be correlated with weight and activity.

IT TAKES A definite exercise action to reach these triceps muscles. The rule is to put force behind a punch, with arms held out at shoulder level. If your young son has a punching bag, punch away at that.

Improvise by suspending a firm sofa pillow in a doorway and thrust forward vigorously with alternate fists. This will definitely tone the triceps. Experiment and see for yourself. As you thrust with one arm, with the other hand feel what is happening in the sagging area.

Any exercise is helpful. But to tone certain muscles, the exercise action must be directed through that exact spot.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Child's Insomnia No Reason For Concern

Now and then a mother writes of a child who lies awake for hours at bedtime. The child may not get up and walk about. He simply lies there awake. A New Jersey mother writes of her daughter, seven: "When she two, we took her on a vacation to a lake resort. Our house was surrounded by trees and woods and it seemed that every night when she was in her room, she imagined the 'wolf' coming out of the wood and into her bedroom. "Ever since that vacation she has had a terrible time getting to sleep. Sometimes she is in bed anywhere from one to three hours before she finally falls asleep. She just lies in bed, with out disturbing us or fussing one bit, but just lies quietly. It just about drives me insane.

By Garry Meyers

"I'm afraid there have been nights when I have scolded her terribly and even spanked her for not going to sleep."

—:—

TWO YEARS ago, when this mother began working, the girl began bedwetting.

"Lately she has improved in this respect. Sometimes she may go a whole week dry at night."

My reply in part:

Bedwetting may wholly cease if you evince no concern about it. Assure the child she need feel no shame or worry about it. Using a rubber sheet on her bed might add to her security.

You expressed anxiety over this child's lying awake.

Efforts to force her to go to sleep could be the chief cause of her staying awake so long at bedtime. I just can't understand why you should be vexed over her insomnia. She certainly doesn't stay awake deliberately.

Just imagine yourself in this child's place. Suppose someone scolded or punished you when you couldn't go to sleep. Do you suppose such treatment would help you go to sleep promptly?

SHE MAY still have some fears or worries. Limit or forbid her exposure to violent programs on the air. Let her have her door ajar with a dim light on inside.

Look into her day-to-day experiences. Try to win her affection and companionship, hoping she will freely talk to you about her worries. Do your best to help her have normal fun with other children of her age.

If this problem continues, consult your physician.

My bulletins, "Sleep Problems With Children" and "Psychology Applied to Bedwetting," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Fairfield County Road May Be State Highway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fairfield County Road 105, which extends south from U. S. 33 in Lancaster to the grounds of Boys' Industrial School, will become a state route if a Highway Department plan is approved.

The department has arranged a May 22 hearing on the proposal at Lancaster. The five - mile road would become Ohio 793 if the proposal receives public support and the highway director's okay.

Remarks About Columnist

Hal Gets 'Big Ears' Full

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a newspaper columnist gets tired of hearing—or overhearing:

"Be careful of what you say—or ole 'Big Ears' will have it in the newspapers, the next thing you know."

"You mean that's all you do is write just one piece a day? How in the world do you spend your spare time?"

"I've got a young nephew that doesn't know what to do with himself. How can he go about getting a job like yours?"

"Personally, I don't have much time for reading, but my wife says she likes your column very much. What's it about?"

"Personally, I don't find much time for reading—just the really important things. But my husband says he gets a laugh out of your column. What's it about?"

"Where do you get all your ideas—steal 'em?"

"What's life like on a free pass? Do you guys ever pay your way in to see anything?"

"Well, how's the ole press agents' lifesaver today?"

"It's a really cute idea. We're holding a canary singing contest to introduce a new bird food, and if you'll just agree to serve as a judge you'll find plenty of really cute material."

"What if it is made up? Do you think a thing has to be true to be interesting?"

"I been reading that Khrushchev is sick. How sick is he actually?"

"Don't tell me a guy in your position doesn't get a really good Wall Street tip now and then. How about passing one on, ole palsy walsy?"

"Dear sir: You cur. Why are you always picking on women in your column? Are you mad at your mother? (signed) 'Angry Wife.'"

"Dear sir: You jerk! Why do you always give wives the best of it in your column? Are you a man or a mouse in your own house? (signed) 'Old-fashioned Husband.'"

"Sure I know it's a tough job and you could use a raise. But look at it this way: There are at least six guys on the copy desk who are tired of writing headlines—and would love to have your problems — and your working hours."

5 County Men Depart For Induction In Draft

They include: Clarence W. Butler, 681 Lincoln Ave., and Richard L. Schmidbauer of Shadyside Ave., both East Liverpool, John Wallace Case of Columbiana, Woodford E. Kelly of Salem and Jimmie E. Exline of Elkton.

Weirton Police Seek $100 Monthly Boost

WEIRTON — City Council Monday night was presented with a petition by the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 84, seeking a monthly wage increase of $100 per man, vacations of three weeks instead of two and a hike in the longevity pay from $1 to $2 a year.

The lodge represents all policemen and firemen employed by the city. The city also has a volunteer fire department.

Petitioners contend they have more responsibility than ordinary workers, yet receive the same pay. They also cited the high cost of living in Weirton and said that they are ready to "assist Council in raising the revenue in a proper manner."

New Kaiser Facility To Serve County Plant

COLUMBIANA — Raw materials for Kaiser's Columbiana basic refractories plant, being enlarged for the second time, will come from a new $3 million Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. plant at Midland, Mich., it was announced at the firm's New York headquarters.

The new plant will make periclase, a crystalline chemical used in manufacture of refractory brick for industrial furnaces.

Road Job Unfilled

HAMMONDSVILLE — No action was taken by the Board of Trustees of Saline Township at a meeting Monday to consider appointment of a road supervisor. The next meeting was set June 1. Frank Scarabino of Irondale is president.

Steubenville Man Gets $8,000 Jury Verdict

NEW CUMBERLAND — A former Steubenville city councilman was awarded $8,000 in damages Monday in Hancock County Circuit Court as the result of a traffic accident involving Weirton residents.

After three hours deliberation, a jury returned a verdict at 10:30 last night for James Joseph Bruzzese, who lost the use of an arm in the traffic mishap.

The defendants were Anna Boston and son of Weirton. Bruzzese had asked $35,000.

JoAnn Cipranic of Burgettstown is scheduled for trial today in connection with the cutting of a woman in a Weirton restaurant. She was indicted by the January Grand Jury.

Insurance Plans Aired For Municipal Workers

Hospitalization insurance plans were explained by an insurance company representative Monday night at a meeting of Local 677, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, which represents city workers.

About 25 attended the session in Tice's Restaurant. As most members of the local already carry group insurance through the union as well as through city payroll deductions, the explanation was mainly for the benefit of new members, the officers explained.

Refreshments were served. Dan Bowers is president.

How Can I? ? ?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I keep meringue from shrinking?

A. To help prevent meringue on pies from shrinking while cooking, be sure that it covers the entire top of the pie and touches the rim of the crust. Bake the meringue for about 15 minutes in a slow oven. Too hot an oven will cause shrinkage.

Q. How can I make soup crotons?

A. Soup crotons can be made easily in the corn-popper. They will crisp very quickly. Cut the bread the desired size, place in the popper and toast.

Q. How can I remove paper that has become stuck to the top of a table?

A. Remove it by putting a few drops of sweet oil on the paper and rubbing lightly with a soft cloth. Then polish with furniture polish.

Wheatley Named To New Term As IBOP President

E. L. WHEATLEY
Returned To 2nd Full Term.

E. L. Wheatley, president, and the other 11 officers of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters have been re-elected to new two-year terms, a three-man canvassing committee reported late Tuesday afternoon when it completed tabulation of the results of the union's general election May 5.

Statistics showed Wheatley received 70.66 per cent of the total vote, against a 29.34 per cent poll for his opponent, James M. Duffy of East Liverpool, who formerly headed the international union for 25 years, the union announced.

All other officers were returned by substantial majorities, including Secretary Treasurer Charles F. Jordan, who received 74.75 per cent of the total vote against 25.25 per cent for his opponent, P. K. Calhoon of East Liverpool, the union announced.

Wheatley and the other officers will be installed for their new terms at the 65th international convention, which will open July 6 in Montreal. Wheatley will be beginning his second full term.

Duffy, a member of Local 31 at East Palestine, headed the union until he was defeated by Frank Hull of East Liverpool about five years ago. Wheatley served for many years as first vice president of the IBOP, in charge of its East Coast office in Trenton. He moved up to the presidency in 1956 when Hull relinquished the office in mid-term because of failing sight and hearing.

In a special election that followed, Wheatley was named to Hull's unexpired term. He was elected to his present term in May 1957, defeating Duffy.

Local unions in 13 states and Canada voted in the general election. As locals outside the immediate East Liverpool area certified their returns by mail, the final

Deadlock On DiSalle Tax Plan Broken In Senate Compromise

DiSalle Asks Changes To Avert Waste

Reorganization Of State Government Urged In Message

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, in a special message to the Legislature, today called for state government reorganization as a key move toward eliminating inefficiency and waste.

The proposal would permit the governor to institute departmental mergers and divisions and submit his reorganization plan simultaneously to both houses of the Legislature at a regular session. Either house would have veto power within a 60-day period. If neither house vetoed the plan, it would be effective 90 days after the Legislature adjourned.

In his 3500-word message today, the Democratic governor laid heavy stress on the fact his proposal is patterned after the system recommended for the federal government by former Republican President Herbert Hoover as head of a special commission on reorganization.

"Ohio needs reorganization," DiSalle asserted. "With government costs continually on the rise, it is absolutely essential that waste, duplication, extravagance and inefficiency be eliminated.

"It is also essential that responsibility for better administration be clear and be fixed.

"When we seek the right to accomplish these needed objectives, subject to the power of the Legislature to disapprove . . . and with this, further subject to the right of the people to express themselves in free elections, can we afford to permit the continuance of the waste of the taxpayers' dollars."

DiSalle asserted Ohio faces in many ways the same problems that faced the fedeal government before the reorganization studies of the Hoover Commission. There has been no full-scale reorganization of state government since 1921, he said, adding:

"New agencies have been created, new boards and commissions have sprung up, new functions have been assumed. The growth in the state budget has been almost unbelievable—in 1921 it was $67,336,495 and today it is 971 millions. The number of state employes has grown from 13,231 in 1921 to 42,819 today."

DiSalle said his proposal would permit a governor to submit plans which would result in lower spending, greater efficiency, better coordination, fewer agencies and elimination of total or partial overlapping of effort.

Capital Airline Involved In Both Tragedies

Turboprop Plane Torn Apart By Explosion

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Capital Viscount turboprop airliner blew apart during a nonstop flight from New York to Atlanta late Tuesday, scattering wreckage and the bodies of all 31 aboard over freshly plowed fields east of Baltimore.

Just 48 minutes earlier, another Capital airliner, a four-engine Constellation, plunged over a 200-foot embankment at the Charleston, W.Va., airport, 300 miles to the west, as it came in for a landing. It immediately burst into flames. Two bodies were removed from the charred wreckage and six persons were hospitalized.

There were 44 persons aboard the Constellation.

An official at the Civil Aeronautics Board said it was the first time in his memory that a single airline had had two fatal crashes in one day.

The weather may have played a part in both crashes.

Flight engineers and others said they thought the plane was caught in a severe updraft or downdraft which pulled off part of a wing. The fuel lines in the wing snapped spraying fuel into the burning engine. The quick combustion was a low order explosion which tore the plane to pieces.

Rain was still falling slightly at Charleston when the big Constellation came in for a landing at the airport, built by slicing off the top

Liner Skids Over 200-Foot Bank And Burns

The Capital Airlines Constellation plunged tail-first to the bottom of the embankment. The crash occurred at 3:26 p.m. as the plane landed at mountain-top Kanawha Airport on Flight 983 bound from Rochester, Buffalo and Pittsburgh for Atlanta.

Twenty-eight other passengers and crew members were taken to hospitals. All but six were released after treatment or examination.

Killed in the crash were William M. Riley of Rochester, N.Y., a passenger, and B. J. Morrison, 26, of Glasgow, Ky., a Capital trainee who was riding with the pilot and co-pilot. The two badly burned bodies were recovered from the smoldering hulk two hours after the crash.

Of the survivors, the most seriously hurt appeared to be the flight engineer, John Howanski, 39, of Fairfax, Va. He had severe burns on the arms and face.

Survivors praised the cool-headed work of two stewardesses in preventing panic and helping passengers get out of the wreck. The stewardesses, Nancy S. Marshall, 20, and Evelyn Marie Viera, 19, both of Alexandria, Va., were treated at a hospital for cuts and released.

Floor Votes On Gasoline, 3.2 Beer Set

Committee Proposes Passage Of 2-Cent Hike On Cigarettes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The weeks-long tax deadlock has broken in the Ohio Senate. The details of an acceptable sales tax compromise are being worked out.

Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's entire 360-million-dollar tax program appears to have been blasted loose by the compromise. Now it is rolling.

Evidence: Within a matter of hours after the compromise was proposed and tentatively agreed to Tuesday, the Senate Rules Committee scheduled Senate floor votes for today on House-approved bills to increase the Ohio gasoline tax by two cents a gallon and boost the barrel tax on 3.2 beer.

And, only a little later, a Senate committee recommended passage of a House-approved bill to increase the state cigarette tax two cents a pack.

The compromise on the sales tax bill was two-pronged:

Drop the proposal to lift the traditional exemption on farm and factory machinery "used directly" in agricultural and industrial production. Lifting of that exemption, it had been estimated, would have given the state about 36 million dollars a year in new revenue.

Jack up the state's corporation franchise tax to four-tenths of one per cent on capital investment. The tax is now one-tenth of one per cent. It yields 16 millions a year. DiSalle originally proposed to double the tax to two-tenths. The House passed such a bill and sent it to the Senate.

The tax compromise will redouble the corporation tax. The extra two-tenths will yield 32 million dollars a year to the state treasury.

Three Democrats on the Senate Taxation Committee have blocked the sales tax bill for weeks. One of them, Sen. J. Sherman Porter (D-Gallia), has objected to lifting the "used directly" sales tax exemption. He said he will go along with the compromise and furnish the needed sixth vote to spring the sales tax bill out of committee.

It is possible the sales tax bill, stuck in the Senate committee since early March, will be recommended out of committee today. But, guarding against last-minute changes of heart, Democratic leaders plan to call for a vote first on the quadrupled corporation franchise tax bill. Unless it moves, the sales tax bill will remain where it is.

Robbery Pair Bound Over To Grand Jury

Suspects In School Entry Plead Guilty In Wellsville Case

Two men nabbed while burglarizing McKinley School at Wellsville early Tuesday morning were bound over to the Grand Jury at a hearing yesterday afternoon before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Gilbert P. Beers, 31, of 207 Walnut St., East Liverpool, and Donald. L. Creamer, 18, of Indiana, Pa., both pleaded guilty to the formal charge of burglary of an uninhabited dwelling.

Creamer was placed under $1-000 bond and Beers' bond was set at $1,500. Both are being held in Wellsville jail.

The two obtained about $4.50 in small change from the school. Police pointed out they face a possible 1-15-year prison term.

Police said Beers has a past record of burglary. The two were nabbed by Patrolmen Denton Kevan and Robert Wellington after a passerby noticed a light inside the school.

They had forced the front door to gain entrance. They also had tried a basement door, police said.

They used a screwdriver in forcing back the lock and unless it was closely inspected, a person couldn't tell the lock had been touched, police said.

Special Officer Tom Walker of East Liverpool questioned the two men yesterday afternoon about their activities in East Liverpool.

Earlier they confessed to Wellsville police of burglarizing the Midway Diner on the River Rd. and attempting to enter the adjacent Midway Oil Co.

East Liverpool police said the pair obtained about $60 in change and cigarettes by rifling a vending machine in a weekend burglary at the Midway Diner. The loss was not discovered until Monday afternoon when an attendant went to the diner to service the cigarette machine, officers said. A few pennies also were taken from the diner's cash register, police said.

Entrance was gained by forcing a door on the southeast side of the diner, officers said. The diner is operated by Mrs. Opal Moore of Pleasant Heights.

Local police indicated the men may not be given preliminary hearings here as they already have been bound over to the Grand Jury at Wellsville. However, county authorities may present the local charges direct to the Grand Jury if they wish, police said.

They also admitted burglarizing Wells High School at Newell. Hancock County authorities did not question them. They obtained between $4 to $5 in small change.

Unions Move To Revamp Or Kill Measure

Mine Union's Chief To Voice Opposition Against Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor unions, through breakfasts for congressmen and other forms of lobbying, are mounting a growing drive to revamp sharply or kill the Senate-passed labor regulation bill.

John L. Lewis, the veteran United Mine Workers Union president, was to register his opposition today before a House Labor subcommittee.

The 79-year old Lewis repeatedly has counseled against any new labor anti-corruption legislation. He says the problem is an internal one for unions to solve and, anyway, there are plenty of laws against embezzelement to curb union frauds if the laws are enforced.

Meanwhile the AFL-CIO, which supported the original Senate bill before amendments were added in the Senate, indicated a switch in sentiment. The AFL-CIO Executive Council is to meet here next week to go over the Senate version section by section.

George Meany, the AFL-CIO's president, hinted at federation opposition in a speech Tuesday to the Plasterers' Union. Meany spoke of the bill as passed by the Senate as "an active threat against the trade union movement."

James R. Hoffa's Teamsters Union came out with a broadside against the Senate bill while union members were quietly breakfasting groups of congressmen in efforts to get the bill trimmed down.

"There's no secret about it," a Teamsters spokesman said. "Most congressmen have been contacted by our representatives. It's just normal lobbying procedure."

The Senate bill basically requires a detailed reporting of union finances and full member rights in internal union procedures, with the secretary of labor given broad enforcement powers. President Eisenhower has said the Senate bill isn't strong enough against certain union practices.

Steel Talks Recessed To Reassess Positions

NEW YORK (AP)—Wage contract negotiations for the steel industry were in recess today, to give management and union representatives time to reassess their positions.

Negotiators met for about three hours Tuesday but there was no announcement by either side.

Asked to comment on the session, David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said "We cannot negotiate in the press."

Troops Mass At Plants In Strike Unrest

National Guardsmen Appear With Fixed Bayonets At Mills

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — National Guard troops sent to this industrial city to prevent further violence at two struck cotton mills met their first test with an effective show of force Tuesday night.

The crowd of strikers jeered the troops and workers leaving the plant. Between 80 and 100 guardsmen were stationed at each mill.

City police said some rocks were thrown in an area not policed by the Guard. The officers arrested five persons, one of whom was charged with inciting to riot.

The force of about 300 men was ordered here by Gov. Luther Hodges as a result of violence that erupted Monday night at the end of the second shift.

Workers leaving the plants were pelted with rocks, and their cars were fired upon. Local officials said the situation was beyond their control and asked for troops.

Herter Bids For Debate

West 'Disgusted' With Red Efforts

GENEVA (AP)— The Western foreign ministers showed signs today of becoming fed up with the Soviet Union's insistence on adding more Red nations to the Geneva conference.

U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter planned to use his power as today's chairman to try to open the East-West debate on German issues for which the conference was called.

Aides said privately they were not sure he could pull off this maneuver unless the Soviet campaign suddenly eased up—something they did not expect.

A French spokesman said "we think this afternoon's session will be wasted" on further argument over Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's proposal to give Poland and Czechoslovakia seats at the conference round table.

The Western ministers offered Gromyko a compromise, however: To let the two Communist nations and Italy and probably one or two other Western states enter the parley at some later time.

But Gromyko said through a spokesman the success of the conference was hinged to bringing in the Polish and Czech foreign ministers as full members at once. He demanded "a positive decision" and made clear he wanted it today.

Western informants reported that Herter and his allies have no intention of backing down on the issue. They offered a limited compromise: Poland, Czechoslovakia and one or more other nations can be invited to the conference later.

Ike Says Reds Push Propaganda Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Soviet Union seems to be pushing a propaganda drive in seeking admittance of Red satellite nations to the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

Eisenhower told a news conference he is very hopeful the Russians will abandon any such propaganda tactics so the conference can get down to fruitful negotiations.

U.S. Approval For Red Boss' Visit Expected

Top Officials May Combine His Trip To Summit Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration appears reconciled to a possible visit by Premier Nikita Khrushchev to the United States this summer.

This signals a change in attitude by authorities whose views would be important in deciding both issues. Until now, they have stressed the difficulties involved in a Khrushchev visit or choosing an American site for a summit conference.

If plans for a summertime summit meeting collapse, there is some prospect the bouncy Soviet leader will force the issue by asking to be allowed to open the Soviet Exposition in the New York Coliseum June 30.

President Eisenhower probably would say "yes" to such a request. The President would have no alternative, many officials believe, now that the Soviets have agreed to allow Vice President Richard M. Nixon to open an American National Exposition in Moscow July 25.

Khrushchev has made no official move yet to set up an American visit. But Soviet authorities in Moscow have made it known that "a senior official" undoubtedly would go to New York to open the Soviet exhibit.

Hall Asks Support Of School Levy

Pupils graduating in the next decade from any one of Hancock County's four high schools may possibly be quite a few steps ahead of their immediate predecessors in choosing careers.

They might possess better reading skills, speak and write better than today's graduates and could conceivably be farther along the right path to a successful future than ever before.

THE PUPIL receiving a diploma in 1969 may be stronger physically, more alert and diversified and possess a superior understanding of the opportunities which figure in everyday life, school officials said.

He might — if county voters provide the chance — do these mentioned things and maybe more.

Whether or not the "might" materializes into a "certainty" lies in the outcome of a special election Tuesday for enactment of an additional 50 per cent levy to finance an extensive, modern school improvement program.

Designed to raise $2 million over a 5-year period, the levy will produce funds to implement a list of recommendations for improvements made by a noted educator.

The recommendations corral a wide area of consideration but emphasize a more efficient counseling system to satisfy the needs of individual pupils and prepare them for future careers.

WITH AN EYE toward the future educational opportunities of Hancock's youth, the County Board of Education is asking approval of the additional levy to strengthen the present program and keep in line with the trend of modern educational advancements.

The contemplated program would offer a more challenging array of subject matter to pupils in the county's 150 elementary classes and 4 high schools at Chester, Newell, New Cumberland and Weirton.

It also would "channel" studies of brighter students and "keep them working on a level with their capacity and ability," Supt. Robert H. Hall pointed out.

Subjects to be stressed would include science, mathematics, English composition and social stu-
